

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. II That this department can keep up its record for promptness, Post Commanders will have the Reports of the Adjutant and Quartermaster, for the term ending June 30, forwarded immediately after the last meeting in this month, (many of these reports are now due from Posts that meet once a month only) by prompt attention from Commanders of Posts, these reports can be consolidated, and forwarded to National Headquarters without delay.

III. Drafts, checks and money orders should be made payable to C. P. GRAMLICH, ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER GENERAL, and enclosed with the Reports sent to the Assistant Adjutant General.

Post Patriotic Instructors will forward their reports promptly to the Department Patriotic Instructor, Charles O. Smith, Pittsburg, Penna.

IV. Post Commanders are requested to recommend for appointment as Aid, a comrade who will by his zeal be of service in keeping up the interest in his Post, add to its number, and assist in keeping the Department up to the standard for which it has so long been noted.

V. The Forty-first National Encampment will be held at Saratoga Springs, New York, during the week of September 9th to September 14th. Detailed information as to railroad fares, etc., will be promulgated at an early date.

The Headquarters of the Department will be at the "Grand Union" Hotel:

Comrade J. L. Adams, Post No. 141, Bradford, having forwarded a draft for $200, to pay for a Band to lead the Department in the Grand Parade at Saratoga Springs in September next. The Department Commander takes this opportunity to extend his most appreciative thanks to Comrade Adams for this generous donation.

By command of William T. Powell,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General

INFORMATION.

Calvin Fryer, Spring City, Penna., is anxious to obtain any information of Samuel W. Weller, formerly of Company "A" 87th Regiment, Penna. Vols.

The following discharges are at this office.

John Newman, Company (F) 84th Regiment, Penna. Volunteer Infantry, Robert F. Kelly, Corporal, Company (H) 99th Regiment, Penna. Volunteers, William H. Prescho, 1st Sergeant, Company (I) 110th Regiment, Penna. Infantry.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, August 12, 1907.

General Orders,
No. 3.

I. As previously announced the Forty-first National Encampment will be held at Saratoga Springs, New York, September 9-14, Department Headquarters will be established at the Grand Union Hotel, Tuesday, September 10th, at 10 A. M., where Staff Officers, Representatives and Post Commanders will report upon their arrival for instructions.

The Parade will take place on Wednesday September 11th, and the sessions of the Encampment on September 12th and 13th.

II. Railroad arrangements and rates are announced: Fare for the round trip from points in Pennsylvania, "one fare" tickets will be on sale September 7th to the 9th, going, good to return until September 17th, requiring validation by Special Agent, by deposit of ticket in person not later than September 17th, and the payment of $1.00 an extension of return limit may be obtained to leave Saratoga Springs not later than September 25th.

Arrangements are now under way for a Special Headquarter train through to Saratoga without change of cars, to leave Philadelphia on Monday, September 9th at or about 9.52 A. M., arriving at Saratoga at or about 5.30 P. M., for this train an additional charge of about 15 cents will be made to cover the cost of switching the train between Jersey City and Weehauken. Comrades and their friends who will join this train (which will consist of Parlor Cars and day coaches) should communicate with the Assistant Adjutant General promptly, to the end that a sufficient number of cars can be provided.

III. Comrades and their friends desiring accommodations at Saratoga, should at once write to Robert S. Rimington, Chairman, Committee on Accommodations, Saratoga Springs, New York, stating plainly just what they desire, prompt attention will be given to all such applicants; free quarters will also be provided, applications for same to be made at least 15 days prior to September 9th.

IV. These Headquarters will be closed from September 9th to September 14th. All supplies required should be ordered prior to the time mentioned.

A few Posts are now delinquent with Reports and per capita tax for the term ending June 30th, the attention of the Commanders of such delinquent Posts is called to the blue pencil mark opposite this paragraph.

V. Pennsylvania has long enjoyed the distinction of being the best in discipline and uniform of any Department in the Grand Army of the Republic, to the end that this reputation may be maintained, the Department Commander requests that every Comrade at Saratoga will appear in the uniform of the Department and parade with his Comrades.

VI. In accordance with the action of the Forty-first Annual Encampment, Past Commander-in-Chief J. P. S. Gobin, Comrades Samuel Davies, W. J. Eastman, Nathan Wilson, W. J. Wells, Assistant Adjutant General Charles A. Suydam, and Assistant Quartermaster General, C. F. Gramlich, are appointed a "Committee to select and present to the retiring Department Commander, M. A. Gherst, a testimonial, in recognition of his valuable services to the Grand Army of the Republic."

VII. The following appointments are announced:

They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

VIII. The well known earnestness of the Comrades who have been appointed Aides, was their best recommendation. The Department Commander expects that increased effort on their part will result in good work in their respective districts. Upon receipt of this Order Aides are requested to at once notify Chief-of-Staff, W. H. H. Lea, Carnegie, Penna., of their acceptance of the appointment, as also their P. O. address.

IX. The official badge of an Aide consists of rank strap with silver leaf, flag ribbon with red border and the regulation star, the badge complete can be had at a cost of 75 cents, upon application to Assistant Quartermaster General C. F. Gramlich, at these headquarters.

X. The proceedings, findings and sentence of the Post Court-martial in the case of John F. Osler, Post No. 140, have been approved, and he is thereby dishonorably discharged from the Grand Army of the Republic.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS A SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General,

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, August 14, 1907.

General Orders,
No. 4.

I. The Department Commander believes that an Annual Inspection of the Department is essential to its welfare. The Inspection for the year 1907 will take place between September 2nd and December 16th, under the direction of Department Inspector William H. Green.

Assistant Inspectors will forward their reports to the Assistant Inspector-at-Large of the District who will at once transmit the same to the Department Inspector.

Post Adjutants should have their attention called to the fact that in reporting deaths of Comrades in the semi-annual reports, care should be observed in giving the Company, Regiment, or other branch of the service in which the deceased served, together with ranks and date of death.

The Department Commander desires to impress upon the Inspectors-at-Large the importance of AT ONCE arranging for an early Inspection of their Districts to the end that the Posts in the county Districts can be inspected prior to Oct. 1st, and thereby escape the uncertain weather conditions after that time.

THE ASSISTANT INSPECTORS-AT-LARGE WILL FORWARD TO EACH ASSISTANT INSPECTOR A COPY OF THIS ORDER WITH THE NECESSARY BLANKS.

II. The Department is hereby divided into the following Districts.

Assistant Adjutant General.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., September 10, 1907.
Special Orders, No. 7.

I. Headquarters are hereby established at the Grand Union Hotel, there to remain until 1 P. M., Friday, September 13th.

II. The following information is published for the guidance of Past Department Commanders, Representatives, Post Commanders and Comrades in general.

III. Representatives to the Forty-first National Encampment will assemble at these Headquarters on Tuesday, September 11th, at 7.30 P. M. for the consideration of matters of importance.

IV. The Department will assemble for parade at these Headquarters on Wednesday, September 11th, at 12.45 noon, formation will be made on Broadway right resting on Spring Street. At 1.15 P. M. the line will move to the massed formation of Departments. The order of formation as follows:

Veteran Guard, Post 2, Department Commander and Staff, Past National Officers, Past Department Commanders, the detail with Battle Flags.

Posts will take position on the left of the foregoing formation, in numerical order, all other Comrades on the left of the line.

The Band will report to the Assistant Adjutant General at the point of formation at P. M.

V. The Staff will parade dismounted, the march will be in common time, 90 steps to the minute.

At the reviewing stand only the Department Commander and Commanders of Posts will salute.

Colors will be dipped when at six paces from the reviewing officer, and be raised when six paces beyond that officer.

The Department Commander expects that every uniformed Comrade present in Saratoga will parade, the uniform of the Department to be strictly observed, not forgetting (as has happened) white gloves and black necktie.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, October 8, 1907.

General Orders,
No. 5.

I. The Forty-first National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic held at Saratoga Springs, New York, September 12th and 13th, accomplished much good work for the benefit of our Comrades and their dependents. The attendance was largely in excess of what was expected, the inclemency of the weather greatly interfered with the parade on the 11th, and yet despite the terrific rain, it was estimated that there were ten thousand comrades in line from start to finish.

The Department Commander takes this opportunity to express his appreciation, and give due thanks to the Comrades of this Department who were present and who by their soldierly conduct added additional laurels to Pennsylvania.

II. Having attended many reunions of Regimental, District and County Associations, the Department Commander has been deeply impressed with the large numbers in attendance (forty-two years after the war) the enthusiasm manifested, the enjoyment that prevailed, and courteous fraternal feeling extended to him as the representative of the Department. It is his intention to be present at as many of these gatherings as he can possibly arrange, but it is manifested that he cannot accept all of the invitations so graciously extended.

III. Now that the season of vacations has ended, and we again take up the work in our respective Posts with energy renewed, let us move forward with the determination that so far as the power within us lies, every effort will be put forth to bring into our ranks every survivor of the War for the suppression of the Rebellion who is worthy of membership bear in mind that but one-third of those who are entitled to membership are now enrolled. Get to work at once and the result will be surprising.

IV. The Forty-second National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held at Toledo, Ohio, 1908, (presumably during the month of August). The Department Commander suggests that to insure a large attendance from this Department, Posts will at once take action in that direction.

V. The following additional appointments are announced:

AIDES-DE-CAMP.

George W. Uber,	Post No. 35....	Philadelphia.
William Logan,	" 127....	Boston.
James R. Bloom,	" 128....	Allegheny.
John A. Rishel,	" 207....	Homestead.
David Lowry,	" 259....	Pittsburgh.
Chalkley Haines,	" 363....	Philadelphia.
William H. Yoder, ..	" 378....	Catasauqua.

They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

VI. It is expected that the foregoing named Comrades will by their efforts for the good of the Order, make a record of which they can well be proud. Upon receipt of this Order they will at once notify Chief-of-Staff, W. H. H. Lea, of their acceptance of the appointment. The official badge of an Aide, consists of rank strap with silver leaf, flag ribbon bordered with red and the regulation star. The same can be had at a cost of 75 cents, by applying to Assistant Quartermaster General, C. F. Gramlich at these headquarters.

VII. The proceedings, findings and sentence of Post Court Martial in the case of J. B. Coombs, alias William O'Coombs of Post No. 37, are approved, and the said J. B. Coombs, alias William O'Coombs is hereby dishonorably discharged and dismissed from the Grand Army of the Republic.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, November 23, 1907.

General Orders,
No. 6.

I The annual election for officers of Posts, and Representatives and Alternates to the Forty-second Annual Department Encampment must be held at the first meeting of the Post in December.

II. Enclosed herewith are blank forms A and B, Adjutant's and Quartermaster's Reports, and blank credentials for Representatives and Alternates. The blank credentials (two copies enclosed) should both be filled with names plainly written. One copy must be forwarded to these Headquarters immediately after the Post election, and the other copy be presented by the Post Commander to the Assistant Adjutant General, at the meeting of the Committee on Credentials, on the day before the first session of the Forty-second Annual Department Encampment and the reports of the Adjutant and Quartermaster, with the per capita tax, must be forwarded immediately following the last meeting of the post in December. Especial care should be exercised in giving the names, commands, etc., as suggested by the head lines in the blanks. The figures in red ink in the Adjutant's report must not be changed; they represent the number of members in good standing reported by the Post for term ending June 30th. Postal card herewith enclosed is for use in making a correct roster of Posts. Fill up and mail immediately after the installation of officers.

III. The Department Commander desires to impress upon Post Commanders the fact that it is their duty to give personal attention to the prompt forwarding of all reports and per capita tax for the term ending December 31st. All money orders, checks and drafts, for per capita tax should be made payable to C. F. Gramlich, Assistant Quartermaster General, and forwarded to Chas. A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General.

IV. Several Posts have not yet forwarded their reports and per capita tax for the term ending June 30th, 1907. The attention of Commanders 3—1908—G. A. R.

of such Posts are apprised of that fact by the blue pencilling of this paragraph, it is the obligated duty of Post Commanders to see that such delinquency should not exist.

V. Open installation of Officers have been most beneficial in results and the Department Commander most earnestly suggests that wherever possible that this feature be observed.

If a Post desires an Installing Officer other than a member of the Post, it will arrange with said Comrade to perform that duty, and if agreed upon, the name and Comrade with his Post No. and P. O. address should at once be forwarded to these Headquarters, in order that the proper detail be made.

In all other cases the Senior Past Post Commander should be called upon to perform the duty, should he decline the service, the Post Commander will assign the duty to a Comrade competent for the purpose.

Officers elect who may be absent at the time of Installation, should be installed by the Post Commander at the earliest possible date thereafter.

VI. The attention of Post Commanders is called to Par. IV, General Orders No. 2, under date of June 7, 1907. It is very evident that the subject matter of the same has been overlooked in many cases.

VII. The following additional appointments are announced.

AIDES-DE-CAMP.

Theodore Miller,	Post No. 21....	Philadelphia.
James Waugh,	" 25....	Chester.
J. C. Wilson,	" 70....	Corry.
J. B. Parkinson,	" 164....	Beaver Falls.

They will be obeyed and respected accordingly. All appointments of "Aides" (who have not already done so) are requested to advise W. H. H. Lea, Chief of Staff, Carnegie, Penna., of the acceptance of the duties of their position.

It is expected that every "Aide" will attend the meetings of his Post regularly, visit other Posts and strive by every means in his power to add to our ranks, to stimulate the Officers to still greater efforts, to keep this Department fully active to the work that is yet to be done for the good of our Comrades, the widow and the orphan. "Persevering efforts command success."

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

INFORMATION.

R. Heber Breintnall, Adjutant General, Trenton, New Jersey, requests that Surviving Officers and men who served in New Jersey organizations send their names and P. O. address to him at once, as "by virtue of a Resolution of the Legislature of New Jersey, approved March 28th, 1904, a suitable medal was authorized to be made and presented to the surviving officers and men who served in New Jersey organizations during the war of the Rebellion, except those who have or are entitled to receive the First Defenders' medal, by virtue of service under the President's call of April 15th, 1861.

"Comrades should make application when a blank will be forwarded to them to be filled and returned to that office.

"The formal application will be filed and medals issued in the order of their receipt. The medals, however, will not be ready for distribution before January 15th, 1908."

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, December 23, 1907.

General Orders,
No. 7.

I. National and Department Countersigns are enclosed with this order. By direction of the Commander-in-Chief, they go into effect on January 1st 1907. Posts that do not receive them are delinquent.

II. Post Officers elected to serve during 1908 must be installed at the first stated meeting in January, or at a special meeting called for that purpose, as near the date of the regular meeting as may be possible.

III. Reports of Adjutants and Quartermasters, with per capita tax, for the term ending December 31, are due immediately after the last meeting held this month. Post Commanders are directed to give personal attention to the prompt forwarding of the same, as under the Rules and Regulations, Post Officers for the ensuing year cannot be installed, until such reports have been forwarded to Department Headquarters.

Checks, drafts, and money orders must be drawn to the order of Assistant Quartermaster General C. F. Gramlich, but enclosed to Assistant Adjutant General, Chas. A. Suydam. Credentials of Representatives and Alternates to the Forty-second Annual Department Encampment, to be held at Erie in June next, should be forwarded promptly. Attention to this will materially aid the Officers of the Department.

IV. Quartermasters are required to furnish bonds on the form provided by this office; where Quartermasters have been re-elected, they will not be required to make new bonds, unless the amount or condition of the securities has been changed.

Installing officers should satisfy themselves that this requirement has been complied with. Posts that have not been inspected cannot have their officers installed until this has been performed.

V. Blank postal cards mailed with General Orders No. 6, should at once be filled in with the names and addresses of the Post Commander for 1908, and mailed without delay. If this matter is given prompt attention, it will greatly enable the Assistant Adjutant General in getting out a new edition of the Department Roster, at an early date.

VI. The attention of Post Commanders is called to the fact that a "Patriotic Instructor" is now numbered among the list of "Post Officers" and that at the Installation of Officers the Post Commander shall appoint a Comrade qualified for that position, see Art. VI, Sec. 1, also Art. VII, Sec. 1, Rules and Regulations.

VII. In accordance with the action of the Forty-first National Encampment, the Rules and Regulations now provide that in a Post of 25 members or less, three members will constitute a quorum. Commanders of such Posts will govern themselves accordingly.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Any former members of Company "H," 3rd Penna. Cavalry, who remember Harry C. Shuster, a member of said Company, who was discharged from the hospital and service because of rheumatism, will aid his widow by sending their name and P. O. address to William J. Freeman, Shamokin, Penna.

J. H. Wolf, No. 1, Beacon street, Boston, Mass., is desirous of obtaining the names of former members of Company "E," 32nd U. S. Colored Infantry, who knew "Henry Harris" sometimes known as "Basil H. Harris," who was a member of said Company and Regiment.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,

Philadelphia, February 27th, 1908.
General Orders,
No. 8.

I. The Forty-second Annual Encampment of this Department will be held at Erie during the week beginning June 1st, 1908; Headquarters will be at the "Reed House." In the near future detailed information as to Hotel and boarding house rates, etc., will be issued.

II. The Trunk Line Association, under date of February 13th, announces that the rate of fare on account of the Encampment to Erie and return will be "Two cents per mile in each direction from points in Pennsylvania, tickets to be sold and good going, May 31 to June 6, returning leaving Erie to June 8, inclusive.

No card orders required. Ask for round trip tickets on account of the Grand Army Encampment at Erie. It would be well to inquire at local ticket offices to ascertain if they have been advised, in relation to the rates as herein quoted.

III. Credentials of Representatives and Alternates to the Forty-second Annual Encampment, have not been received from quite a number of Posts, the Commanders of Posts so delinquent will see that the credentials are forwarded to these Headquarters without further delay.

IV. The Department Commander is greatly impressed by that fact that two-thirds of the survivors of the War for the suppression of the Rebellion, are at this time not connected with our organization. This should not be the case, as these survivors are the beneficiaries of legislation both National and State that has been advocated by the Grand Army of the Republic, and became effective by their persistent effort, and he believes that if this fact was forcibly called to the attention of those who are not of us, many would be added to our ranks, and still further enable us to continue the good work in the interest of those who require our care and attention.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Daniel J. Robertson, 2316 E. Huntingdon street, Phila., Penna., desires information relative to William Wilson, formerly private Company H, 213th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; if deceased, his heirs can obtain important information.

Any former members of Company B, Seventh Pennsylvania Cavalry, who remember Elijah French, also a member of said Company, will confer a great favor to his family, by sending their names and P. O. addresses to Scott W. Furnee, Commander of Post No. 156, Kittanning, Penna.

Daniel W. Bussinger, 6321 Baynton street, Germantown, Penna., is anxious to obtain information relative to "Carl Fredrich Bergerssen" who came to Philadelphia, in 1859 or 1860, and enlisted in the Union Army in 1861. He has not been heard of since then, he came from Stockholm, Sweden, information will be paid for whether he is alive or dead. There is a large sum of money due him or his heirs.

Michael McGlade, William Peterson, and James Johnson, served on the U. S. S. Dale Harbor of Annapolis, and were from Philadelphia, Penna., they or their legal representatives will find it to their interest to correspond with W. E. Moses, McGill Building, Washington, D. C.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
S. W. Cor. Fifth and Chestnut Streets,
Philadelphia, April 25, 1908.

General Orders,
No. 9.

I. As previously announced, the Forty-second Annual Encampment of this Department will be held in Erie during the week of June 1st to June 6th. Headquarters will be established at the "Reed House" on Tuesday, June 2nd, at 3 P. M., where Post Commanders will report with credentials.

The rate of R. R. Fare will be two cents per mile in each direction, tickets to be sold good going May 31st to June 6th; returning leave Erie to June 8th, inclusive.

II. Comrades and their friends desiring accommodations either in Hotels or private boarding houses should write to Chairman Floyd Hill, No. 16 West Seventh St., stating just what they want and the price per day they are willing to pay. Prompt response will be made to all applicants.

III. The Committee on credentials is hereby announced: Assistant Adjutant General, Charles A. Suydam; George F. Peters, Post No. 128; Hugh J. Shannon, Post No. 71; W. S. Hanna, Post No. 289; John N. Reber, Post No. 191; they will report to the Assistant Adjutant General, in the rooms of the "Chamber of Commerce" (adjoining the "Reed House" lobby), Tuesday, June 2nd, at 2:30 P. M.

IV. Officers and Representatives are expected to appear in the uniform of the Department as directed by action of the Thirty-first Annual Department Encampment.

V. The Camp-fire will be held in the Majestic Theatre, on the evening of June 2nd.

The Encampment will meet in annual session in the Majestic Theatre, on Wednesday, June 3rd, at 10.30 A. M.

VI. Assistant Quartermaster General, C. F. Gramlich, is hereby detailed as Officer of the Day; he to remain on duty during the sessions of the Encampment.

The Commander of Post No. 67, will detail one Comrade for Officer of the Guard; he to remain on duty during the sessions of the Encampment, and a sufficient number of sentinels to serve while the Encampment is in session.

The Officer of the Day and the Officer of the Guard will report to the Assistant Adjutant General, on the evening of Tuesday, June 2nd, at 7 P. M. for instructions.

VII. There will be a parade on Wednesday, June 4th, forming at 9.45 A. M., over a short route (not over a mile in length), direct to the place of holding the Encampment.

VIII. Regimental or other Associations desiring to hold re-unions during the week of the Encampment, will address Thomas H. Cole, Chairman of the General Committee, who will see that accommodations are provided for that purpose.

IX. Attention is directed to the Lincoln Memorial Tablet, in bronze, on which in raised letters appears the immortal address of our martyr President, as delivered at Gettysburg. This tablet is 24 x 29 inches, and is a work of art, the same having met with the official approval of the Grand Army of the Republic, with a view to educating our Boys and Girls to the most lofty heights of Patriotism. One of these Tablets should be in every School House, Post Halls, and Public Buildings. The cost of this tablet, boxed ready for shipment at New York is $129.00.

Photograph copies of this tablet can be had for $1.00 per copy and would make a valuable addition to every home. For further particulars address Charles Burrows, Quartermaster General, Rutherford, New Jersey.

X. The Department Commander is deeply impressed with the importance of closer relations with the Sons of Veterans. More now than ever before are they exhibiting a deeper interest in our welfare and how they can best serve our organization. Numerous instances could be cited where they have been and now are a wonderful help to Posts with whom they affiliate, and especially so is this the case in the ceremonies incident to the observance of Memorial Day. The time is not far distant when we will need their aid and assistance, and as we grow weaker in numbers and they grow stronger, let us now by all the means in our power, help in the building up and strengthening their organization, that they may still be better equipped to take up the work to which we have so long been committed.

By command of WILLIAM T. POWELL,
Department Commander.
CHAS. A. SUYDAM,
Assistant Adjutant General.

INFORMATION.

The Posts comprising the North-western Association, will parade at Erie, June 3rd, in honor of the assembling of the Forty-second Annual Encampment of the Department, after which there will be a re-union. For particulars address Adjutant Harry Watson, Greenville, Penna.

On the battlefield of "Elco," on the Newport Division of the C. and O. R. R., a plate was found bearing the following inscription, "David Walley, Co. B, 103d Pa. V.," any of the former relatives of that soldier, or if he is alive, can obtain the same by writing to William A. Crowey, Dumbarton, Henrico Co. Virginia, R. F. D. No. 1.

Major Lévi G. McCauley, West Chester, Penna., desires the address of Oswald Leonard and Beatrice Chamberlain, children of Palmer Chamberlin, the latter having served as a private in Company "E" 124th Regiment Penna. Vol. Infantry; this information is desired for the purpose of settling an estate.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,

Philadelphia April 27, 1908.

General Orders,
No. 10.

I. Through time's ceaseless march, we again approach Memorial Day, which bids us make preparation for its fitting observance.

Forty years have passed since our lamented Comrade John A. Logan, (then Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic) suggested that May 30th be consecrated to the memory of the departed soldiers and sailors of the Union. Then was inaugurated the beautiful and appropriate ceremonies which have become year after year more impressed upon the hearts of the loyal people.

The example set by the boys who wore the blue to decorate the graves of their Comrades has been taken up by the people, and hundreds of thousands of graves that were sun-kissed in April and May while clothed in their winter garb (too frequently forgotten) are now dressed and trimmed, and either clothed in green sod or decorated with floral plants, and on that day the relatives and friends will visit the Cemeteries and burial places by the thousands in comparison to the few who formerly visited the Cities of the dead, prior to the establishment of Memorial Day. We have often wondered if General Logan had any conception of the far reaching influence, when he suggested that the day be set aside and consecrated to the memory of the departed.

As members of the Grand Army of the Republic, we should highly appreciate the fact, that the duties of the day are imposed upon us by the principles of our organization, and that in no other manner can we more fittingly and effectively perpetuate the memory of our heroic dead, than by relinquishing our usual vocations for a time, and having provided the most beautiful flowers of springtime, lay them as an annual tribute upon the graves of our departed comrades. We should remember the sacredness of the duty thus devolving upon us, and approach its discharge in a fitting and becoming manner. Our conduct throughout the day should be such as to bring no reproach upon ourselves, families or organization, but we should (and I believe every Comrade will) endeavor to win respect and admiration and make its observance a sincere work of love and duty. Let us then on Memorial Day repair to the last resting places of our patriotic dead, carrying with us beautiful flowers, and inspired by the flag our departed Comrades helped to save from dishonor, where we will garland their passionless mounds while remembering their unselfish devotion to their flag and country, and thus teach by our example that devotion to Country is worthy of imperishable remembrance.

II. Post Commanders will arrange to have their respective commands attend divine service on Sunday May 24th. These services which are preparatory to the services of Memorial Day, should not only receive our personal attention, but the most earnest and enthusiastic consideration. We should solicit the co-operation of the Sons of Veterans and invite them to participate with us.

III. We note that some comrades will persist in calling this day set apart for decorating the graves of our deceased comrades "Decoration Day." This is an error. We understand how easy it is to err in this matter, but remember, Comrades, that Memorial Day is the proper designation for May 30th, and the people should be educated to so name it, and this can only be done by the members of the Grand Army exercising care and thus set the example to have the day properly referred to as "Memorial Day."

General Orders,
No. 11.

I. Transmitted herewith are blank forms A and B (Adjutants' and Quartermasters' Reports). Post Commanders are requested to give attention to the urgency of forwarding these reports with the per capita tax, immediately after the last meeting in June.

In this connection the Department Commander suggests that these blanks should as soon as received be placed in the hands of the Adjutant of the Post to the end that they may at once be available when required.

II. Post Chaplains' report should be mailed direct to Rev. John W. Sayres, D. D., Department Chaplain, 330 Kerlin St., Chester, Penna.

The report of the Post Patriotic Instructor should be forwarded to Department Patriotic Instructor Charles O. Smith, 6741 MacPherson St., Pittsburgh, Penn.

III. In accordance with the action of the Thirty-ninth National Encampment, (Denver, 1905,) Comrades are called upon to particularly observe the 131st anniversary of the adoption of the American Flag, as "Flag Day." This year it occurs on Sunday, June 14th, it is recommended that Saturday, June 13th, be observed as a patriotic tribute to "Old Glory," for "Its your flag and my Flag,

And Oh, what it holds,
Your land and my land
Secure within its folds,
Your heart and my heart
Beats quicker at the sight,
Sun kissed and wind tossed
The red and blue and white."

Comrades and their friends that contemplate making this trip should at once communicate with the Assistant Adjutant General, and secure parlor car seats, (if they so desire). Any additional information desired will be most cheerfully given.

WILLIAM T. POWELL, Department Commander,
CHAS. A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General.

42nd Annual Encampment

UNOFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS

Tuesday, June 2, 1908.

CAMP-FIRE AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE, ERIE, 8 P. M., JUNE 2, 1908.

The Camp-fire was called to order by Comrade Thomas H. Cole, of Erie, who introduced Mayor Liebel, of Erie. Mr. Liebel responded with the following address of welcome:

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Ever and anon it becomes not only the pleasure but the duty of the chief executive of Erie to welcome to this fair city some organization possessed of excellent taste and enough discerning judgment to select it as a place of annual meeting. It is a duty which makes light the load of other municipal burdens and a duty which no one similarly situated would not enter into without a thrill of pardonable local pride. I, myself, have become somewhat of a veteran in this respect, but 'n all sincerity and with a heart welling over with gratefulness at your being in our midst, I want to say to you, gentlemen of the Grand Army of the Republic, be you of the Department of Pennsylvania, or of any of the other departments which go to make up this great and glorious organization, never before have I felt quite the same pleasure in any of my official acts which I now feel in turning over to you the keys of this, the Gem City of the Lakes. They are the keys not alone to the gates of the city but to our hearts, our sympathies and our hospitality.

I speak from out of the mouth of a younger generation and a lesser wisdom, but history has emblazoned the deeds of your own youth and vigor in words of golden fire, and again with all sincerity I want to say that you are very dear to us and will ever be. Aye, even until the last of you shall have heard that faint, sweet whisper of the final taps and until the last of you shall have been mustered out of the Grand Army of the Republic into that greater army which is in Paradise.

I see before me in this splendid audience tonight blue-garbed heroes who left an arm on the battlefield of Chickamauga, or a leg in the Wilderness, or perhaps an eye at Gettysburg. I am grieved, and

I pause to wonder why with such wanton hand all this that was once such splendid manhood must needs be so cruelly marred. But then I turn to yonder where hangs the beautiful folds of the glorious Stars and Stripes. Undivided, no North and no South, with added stars and an added lustre, floating o'er this land of the brave and home of the free, and in its turn looked down benignly upon by that Supreme being who watcheth from above. There is my answer, as it was yours; there is your compensation for lost arms or legs or eyes. You grieve not for your empty coat sleeves, for by your very sacrifices you kept intact the most magnificent Union of all times. You do not grieve, then why should I? Oh, death where is thy sting? Oh, grave, where is thy victory?

It cannot be possible even at this late date that our citizens can pass a blue-garbed veteran and not feel a glow of patriotic fervor. Do you know that I believe if I could have my way about it, I'd enact a law which would compel the citizens of these United States to doff their hats when passing one. Why not? Isn't all that we of a later generation can do little enough to repay to you the overwhelming load of gratitude which we owe to you? Who was it after Sumpter was fired upon and rebellion stalked rampant through our Southern sister states, threw down the anvil, discarded the plow, laid aside the pen, kissed wives or sweethearts and in countless instances even children, a fond goodbye, (a goodbye that for so many was to have no returning,) shouldered a musket, sprang upon a caisson or mounted horse to hurry away to the front and into the thick of the fray? You, Mr. Chairman, and you, gentlemen of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The immortal deeds of those Northern hosts are indelibly engraved upon the tablets of our memory and shall remain so as long as the Union which you fought to save intact shall endure or until soul and its earthly casement shall have parted company. They are deeds not to be lightly spoken of nor dismissed as matter of fact. They are deeds which outvie those of Napoleons's all-conquering armies, and in the pages of the world's history where will you find such matchless leaders as Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, and many others whom I might name, for of those leaders who came out of lives of peace and happiness to distinguish themselves in a hitherto unknown world of turmoil and strife, there were not a few. Matchless leaders, indeed, and of matchless armies. But in passing let us shed a tear for him who wore the butternut, treasuring nothing of animosity, but remembering only that he fought for the cause he thought was right.

I do not want to take up any very great length of your time tonight for other and better things are in store for you. I do want, however, to give you further assurance of your welcome in our midst and to tell you that we are only too glad that you decided to bivouac in our city. We are quite willing that whatever of ours you may take a fancy to, you treat as contraband of war without further parley. I thank you. (Applause.)

The Chairman: I have the pleasure of introducing Col. E. P. Gould, Commander of the Erie Post, who will, on behalf of the Grand Army veterans of this city, extend a welcome to the visitors.

Commander J. P. Gould: Mr. Chairman, Officers of the Department of Pennsylvania, Comrades and Friends: On behalf of Post 67 and its comrades, I come to give you a hearty welcome to our city—not only a welcome as a Grand Army man, but a welcome as a citizen of Erie also. One year ago, when the delegates of Post 67 went to Easton to the Department Encampment held there, the delegates from Post 67 were instructed by the citizens of Erie, by the civil authorities, by the Chamber of Commerce, by the Board of Trade, and by our patriotic citizens generally, to use all their endeavors to bring this Encampment here for this year, and, if so, they would assist the comrades of Post 67 in giving you a royal welcome. I want to say to you, comrades, I want to say to you, citizens, I want to say to you all that the progressive, active and public-spirited citizens of Erie have done far more than we expected, there has been good compensation to the comrades of the Erie Post for the work they have done, in knowing that the active, energetic, progressive people of Erie are loyal to the old comrades of the war.

I want to tell you that I believe the same spirit exists in every town and hamlet in Pennsylvania. if you will only give them the same opportunity of showing it.

Nineteen years ago the Department of Pennsylvania held the last encampment that was held in the city of Erie. At that time the present Adjutant General of the State, Comrade Thomas J. Stewart, was elected Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, because for years he had devoted a large portion of his time, unselfishly, patriotically, to assist the old soldiers and to promote the objects of the Grand Army of the Republic. After that, for the same reason, he went up higher, step by step, until he was made Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, than which no greater honor can be given to an American citizen. (Applause.) I want to say that he is here with you tonight, and when you hear him speak and see his face you will know why all the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic have adopted the habit of calling him "Our Tom."

The Grand Army of the Republic is an organized body of veterans of the late war, pledged to maintain the perpetuity of the Union and to uphold law and order throughout the country. Every reader of history knows that the immediate cause of the war was the violation of the laws of the land, and it was this devotion to the supremacy of the law that made Abraham Lincoln so great a leader of so wonderful a people in the greatest epoch of their history for the only terms and conditions under which he waged war, sought peace or proffered amnesty was simple obedience to law; and the glory of the soldiers was not simply that they preserved the Union, not simply that they demonstrated the prowess of a citizen soldiery in the cause of right, but it was that they made a solemn covenant and sealed it with their blood that through this land and among our people everywhere the law must be supreme, its decrees respected and its mandates obeyed. (Applause.)

But I am trespassing on your time. Again I want to say that Post 67 and every comrade of it, through me, extends to you the glad hand. (Applause.)

The Chairman: I have the pleasure of introducing Department Commander W. T. Powell, who will respond to the address of welcome.

Department Commander Powell: Ladies and Gentlemen, Mr. Mayor and Comrades: I have listened with a great deal of pleasure to your kind words of welcome on behalf of the citizens of your beautiful city. I have also listened to the kind words of the Commander of Post 67 on behalf of the comrades of that post, and, of course, we knew that the comrades of the post would extend to us a hearty welcome, and we anticipated that the citizens of Erie would not only open their hearts, but, as stated by the mayor, because these boys had been trusted in 1861 and 1865, you would be willing to extend to them the keys, feeling that you and your citizens would be perfectly safe while they abided with you.

It becomes my pleasant duty to respond to the words of welcome, and there is only one hesitation that I have—and that reminds me of a man who was known in the village where he lived as a man that used a great deal of profanity, and to such an extent that the people of the town had appointed a committee to wait on this man and tried to impress him with the fact that he was having a very bad influence upon the children and young people of that community. Time after time he had been admonished that his use of profane language at all times and under all circumstances was very objectionable to that community, but it seemed to have no effect upon this man. One day he was going to market with a wagon loaded up with apples. Just as he came to the foot of a hill the end-gate of the wagon came out, and while the man was driving up the hill the apples were rolling down. It happened that one of his neighbors was crossing the field, and just along the side of the fence there was a very large tree, and when the neighbor saw that Mr. Johnson's load of apples was rolling out, he hid behind the tree to see what would be the result; and Mr. Johnson drove up until he came to a place where it was wide enough to turn his horses and wagon around, and then he deliberately drove down the other side of the road, being careful not to crush any of the apples with his horses and wagon, and when he arrived at the foot of the hill, he turned his team again and replaced the end-gate and started up the hill again. He would drive a little piece and then stop and throw in the apples, and then drive the team a little further and so on. Finally he came opposite the tree where his neighbor was. The neighbor came out and, bidding him 'the time of day, went on to say to him, "Mr. Johnson, you are a man that has been known in this neighborhood for many years as a man that uses a great deal of profane language, and yet I have seen you under very great provocation, and to my surprise you have not uttered an oath. How does that come?" Mr. Johnson folded his arms, as he looked at his neighbor, and then he looked at his team, and he glanced at the apples still lying along the side of the road, and then back at his neighbor, and said, "There is not a bit of use of my trying to swear on this occasion, because I couldn't do it justice." (Laughter.) That is the only hesitation that I have about me this evening in trying to respond to your words of welcome—I cannot do the subject justice.

I have also been reminded vividly of the fact that there is a number of speakers on this platform and my time is limited. Allow me to say, Mr. Mayor and Commander Gould, that I think there is no danger with the comrades and their friends that are gathering and have gathered in your city, and while I received your words of welcome on behalf of the Grand Army of the Republic, I want to go beyond that tonight and extend the thanks, not only of these comrades from the various parts of this great Department of Pennsylvania, but I also want to extend thanks on behalf of the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and the ladies of the G. A. R. Their loyalty and devotion was demonstrated in the darkest days of the rebellion, beginning with the time when Abraham Lincoln called for 75,000 men, when there was no doubt that 75,000 men would whip our rebellious brothers back into the Union.

There are gentlemen in our presence tonight who responded to that call, and they thought it was an immense army, and wondered what in the world Mr. Lincoln was going to do with all of those men; but it was not very long until there was a call for 500,000 men, and then came call after call until there was 2,867,000 men responded to the call, and out of that number this Keystone State of Pennsylvania furnished about 387,000. These comrades that you have welcomed to your city tonight are comrades that went out in those various calls and responded to the call of duty and did their work well. It is out of place at this time to remind you or to explain to you the results of that great war, but I want to say that while the boys were in the field the mother and wife and sister and daughter and the old father were suffering. Has not the thought occurred to you frequently, just on the eve of battle what was the condition of mind of mother, and when the battle was on, what was her suffering, and after the battle was over how anxiously would she scan the papers to see whether John had fallen in battle. We could not have done our work so well if it had not been for the work of these loyal ladies of the Relief Corps and the Grand Army of the Republic. And so we want to thank you for your hearty welcome, not only on behalf of these comrades, but on behalf of these ladies; and if there is any danger of the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic meeting some of their friends that they have not seen for a long time, if there is any danger of one of them here and there going astray, the fact that these ladies are with us is a guarantee that everything will be safe. (Applause.)

Senior Past President Abbie Lynch, Department of Pennsylvania of the Woman's Relief Corps, was then introduced:

Comrades and Friends: I am indeed honored that I am permitted to speak to you for just a brief moment and to say a few things that have come to us to be said. Twenty-five years ago this month a small number of women met together and instituted this Department, the Women's Relief Corps of the Department of Pennsylvania. For these 25 years we have endeavored to carry out the plans that we have undertaken to accomplish, and on this our silver anniversary we have thought it fitting that we should present the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, with a testimonial of our respect and esteem and admiration for these our comrades; and to you, Commander Powell, I, as the Senior Past President of this Department, and as one who has worked with you all these years, present this flag. It is from the President of this Department and the Past Presidents, those who have worked, who have tried to do their duty faithfully by the Grand Army of the Republic. This beautiful emblem, we know, will be safe in your hands. And the Senior Past President and the youngest Past President pledge to you anew their loyalty. (Applause.)

Department Commander Powell: What shall I say? I read a good many years ago about a ship that was at sea, and there was a storm come up, and it was blown hither and thither, and there was not a soul on board of the vessel but what thought the time had come when they all would be lost; the lifeboats had been prepared to be swung into the sea, and life preservers had been secured. Some were brave, some were weeping. Amid all this turmoil there was a man lashed to one of the masts whose attention was attracted by a little boy who also was tied to one of the spars, and to his astonishment, while all the people were in such distress, this little boy seemed to be careless and unconcerned. After a while, when the wind ceased to some extent, and the waves became more calm, and the people had more hope, this man said to the little boy: "How does it come that while all the rest of us thought we were going to the bottom of the sea you seemed fearless and unconcerned?" The little boy glanced up to a place in a part of the ship and said: "I was not afraid because my father was at the wheel. My father has guided this ship through many storms and I had confidence that he would carry us safely through this one." I referred a while ago to the Relief Corps. It has been my experience to come in contact with them on a great many occasions. They are always looking after opportunities not only to assist the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the orphans, but are also on the lookout to do those things that will bring good cheer and educate loyalty in our hearts. And here tonight we have this beautiful flag presented to us, and on behalf of the comrades of the Department of Pennsylvania I desire to return our heartfelt thanks for this beautiful gift. On this, your 25th anniversary, there is nothing that you could have presented us that will come nearer to the hearts of the boys than this flag, and while the Department from time to time shall march behind it, they will not only remember the days of 1861 and 1865 and what their mothers and sisters and friends suffered in that time, but they will also be conscious of the fact that these loyal hearts are still mindful of the interests of the Grand Army of the Republic and the education and promotion of patriotism in this great land.

On behalf of these comrades, to you, Senior Past President, and to those ladies that you have mentioned, who are so kind and thoughtful as to present this flag (Old Glory), we return our most sincere thanks, and tell them that the comrades of the Department of Pennsylvania will guard it and stand by it as they did from 1861 to 1865. (Applause.)

Mrs. C. W. McKean then sang a solo, the "Star Spangled Banner," which was roundly applauded.

This was followed by Bugle Calls arranged and rendered by Prof. A. H. Knoll. The Bugle Calls aroused the greatest enthusiasm, and Professor Knoll was obliged to respond to several encores.

Comrade Cole then turned the Camp-fire over to Past Commander James Morrison, of Philadelphia.

Chairman Morrison: Comrades and Ladies and Gentlemen: I had no thought of speaking on the platform tonight. I reached Erie today about four o'clock and was told that I must do it, and that is why I am here.

The Temple Quartet then rendered a selection which was enjoyed by the audience.

The Chairman then called upon the Department Chaplain, Rev. John W. Sayres, for a few remarks.

Department Chaplain Sayres: Comrades and Ladies and Gentlemen: I have tried all my life to do the best I can for Jim Morrison. I told a story on him and he has never forgiven me. You know he was raised on a farm down at what we call the "neck" at Philadelphia, and it was haymaking time, and he went to see the girls a good deal, and he stayed out three of four nights a week pretty late. His father had some trouble to get him out of bed in the morning. He went to the door one morning and yelled upstairs: "Jim, come on; this hay must be taken in." Jim answered, "Yes," and then turned over on the other side and went to sleep. In about half an hour he heard the old man coming upstairs, and he knew something had to be done, so he got up as quick as possible and bowed down his head in the attitude of prayer. The old man came into the room and said, "Jim, you may think you can fool your Heavenly Father, but this hitching-strap is for you." (Laughter.) Now, when I tell a story on him like that he always tries to retaliate. He ought not to do it, but he does.

And this is to be a Camp-fire. I confess to you, after listening to what we heard in this Camp-fire I have not felt particularly like one should at a camp-fire. Why? This is the fourth time we have met in Erie. I do not know how many there are here that were here the first time. There are not many here that were here the second time, and, Mr. Mayor, the second time they were here you did not need to say, "here are the keys," because the fellows took everything before them; and we came here the third time when our organization had reached, perhaps, its high-water mark, and when General Stewart was elected commander we felt we were a great power in this city and in this State, and everywhere the Department of Pennsylvania was recognized as a great power. We come now. We have lost. Of course, we have. Many have passed away, but after all quality rather than quantity will count.

I heard a story about a doctor. I know Comrade Gould don't want me to tell it. It is said that the old doctor came into a country inn, and he was dressed rather better than some of the people that were there, and one of them asked him, "What are you anyhow?" He says, "I'm a doctor." Gould says, "A doctor? Well, you can't cure me." "Oh, yes, I can cure you," says the doctor, "if you will tell me what is the matter with you." "Well," says Gould, "I can't tell the truth, I have no appetite, and I have no memory." The doctor says "I can cure you, Gould; you're my man." Gould says, "I'll bet you five dollars you can't." So the bet was made, and the landlord was to hold the five dollars and also see the medicine put up. He went into another room with the doctor, who made up ten large tallow candle pills, and then the doctor came in again to where Gould was, and he says: "Now, I want you to take these pills." Gould took them and says, "Why, these are nothing but tallow." Then the doctor smiled and said: "Gentlemen, I have won the bet. He says he can't tell the truth, and the first thing he did after taking the pills was to tell the truth. He says he has no appetite. A man that can eat ten tallow candle pills as big as those were could eat anything. He says he has no memory. Why, gentlemen, he will never forget this as long as he lives." (Laughter.)

But laying all this aside, I am delighted to be here and to enjoy the hospitality and receive the greetings that these comrades received from the good people of Erie. More than I can tell you, I appreciate it. While I realize that patriotism is spreading, I am intensely anxious however, that it shall be of such character that when I shall have passed away the men and boys and girls who come up now will be as true and loyal to the flag of their country as were their fathers. (Applause.)

Somehow or other it has been in my mind all these years that the fathers of this Republic, in adopting these colors, they stole a patch of Heaven's own blue with the stars still on it, and then linked it with the rainbow, God's symbol of promise, adopted it as the symbol of their expression of love and trust and hope in Almighty God, and from that time to this it has been honored, revered and loved greater than that of any other nation. (Applause.)

The best blood of the 19th century flowed in the veins of the men who gave up all to save this country, and when I saw, during the Spanish-American war, the boys of the North and the boys of the South united under that flag, I said: "Thank God, we are a nation as never before, determined that this flag shall never come down." (Applause.)

The Chairman: All the creeds are represented in the Grand Army of the Republic. We have Methodists, and Presbyterians and Episcopalians and Unitarians, and all the different denominations. Tonight we have with us Rev. Houser, of the first Baptist Church of Erie, who will talk to us for the "Navy."

Rev. Mr. Houser: Mr. Chairman, Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Ladies and Gentlemen: This is an unexpected pleasure, yet I rejoice in the privilege not only of speaking for the Navy and sailing with the navy, but at the same time standing shoulder to shoulder with the troops of the land. The last speaker made reference to the fact that when he saw the boys of the blue and the boys of the gray, or their sons, marching under the same flag there was born in his heart the hope that the flag would never come down. I am only a son of a veteran, but I marched alongside of a Mississippi company or regiment in the Spanish-American War myself. (Applause.) I believe that the blood of the old soldier throbs and surges in the veins of their sons and daughters as well, and while we may not be called on for many years to stand in the forefront of battle and to give our lives as testimony of our devotion to our flag and country, yet we may all do our duty in the civic righteousness for which Old Glory stands.

My oldest boy caught the spirit of his grandfather, and incidentally that of his father. I was away from the city—it was at the time that there was talk of a war with Japan—and my lad telegraphed me: "Papa, there is going to be war. I want to go. Can I?" I telegraphed back to wait at least until I got home. I went home in a week, and when I got home I found he had been improvising martial music in the backyard for the delectation of some of the neighbors and the disturbance of others.

I want to pledge with all the fervor of my heart a life of service to the best flag and the best people, for the best purpose and the largest number, to the glory of God, and to the preservation of our nation and honor of its people. (Applause.)

A duet was then sung by Mrs. Eggleston and Mrs. Arbuckle, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

The Chairman then called upon Comrade C. R. Lantz, of Post No. 42, Lebanon, for a few remarks.

Comrade Lantz: Mr. Chairman and Comrades: I am rather appalled when I look up to the third story here, because naturally I am a young, bashful fellow, and I don't know where all these people came from. I presume some came in yachts from Canada. We have heard magnificent music here tonight, both on the cornet and from the ladies and gentlemen who have treated us to the vocal selections. When you come from a little town like Lebanon, as I do, or from Harrisburg, like Tom Stewart, it is enough to make one think that all the musical prodigies are here in Erie. I want to say that I don't think I was ever at a camp-fire in which I heard two ladies blend so harmoniously and beautifully as to the two ladies who sang a few moments ago,—applause,—and I say this as an old musician.

We are proud of the greatness, grandness and glory of our country, where freedom, love and peace reigns, and the God of nations and battles is supreme. We have before us, in this beautiful city of yours, not only the past history of our glorious country, but we have the greatness of our country of the future all before us. We can look at the triumphs of our armies. Tonight we are here enjoying the fruits of the prosperity of a country where God reigns supreme.

I know it must be excessively warm up there in the third story, and I feel very much like not keeping you up there very long, but I want to tell you a little story that I am reminded of. A little girl was down on her knees praying in the evening, and she prayed for cooler weather, and the following morning it happened to be a beautiful, sunshiny morning, and she was very elated that the Lord had heard her prayer. Her mother thought that if it was a little warmer it might do her good, so she said: "Now tonight pray to get a little warmer weather." So the little girl prayed that night: "Now, dear Lord, make it hot for mamma." (Laughter.)

These camp-fires are very pleasant. Last week I got a dispatch from one of your good citizens that I would be welcome as a guest, and this morning when I came in here in an automobile my host gave me a golden key so that I might get in. If I don't give it to her, I will give it to you Mr. Mayor, so that it will get to the right place.

In a certain good family, while the little girl was playing on the porch, her father and a neighbor were discussing the financial problem. They were unconcerned at the young girl and paid no attention to her. And in the evening when she went to bed she prayed: "Oh, dear Lord, bless papa and mamma; bless Uncle Tom and Aunt Nancy; and dear Lord, take care of yourself, because if you would die, we would have nobody except Teddy." (Laughter.)

We are all grateful for the prosperity that we have, and when some little financial trouble comes on the horizon it will soon disappear, and our great country will be prosperous again as long as God rules the nation. (Applause.)

Then followed a solo by Mrs. Eggleston, a recitation by George Lunger, and a solo by Prof. Alex. Senger, all of which were greatly appreciated.

The Chairman then called upon Past Commander-in-Chief Thomas J. Stewart for a few remarks.

Past Commander-in-Chief Stewart: Comrades and Friends: You all heard the chairman say earlier in the evening that he did not know that he would have this pleasant duty to perform. Now I happened to be present when he made the arrangement with the committee—laughter—that he should be relieved from any speechmaking or any singing, and, if possible that he should be made chairman where he could do more talking than all the rest of us together.

There were two Irishmen working in a lumber camp. They were taking logs from the camp to the top of a hill in the winter time, and the logs were then rolled down the hill to the bottom and loaded on a car and taken away. One Irishman was unusually strong, so that he never bothered with the hook that was generally used. When he came to the top of the hill, ready to roll them off, there was a large log near the top, and he just thought he would lift it out of the way. There was snow on the ground, and he slipped, and he and the log started down the hill. The Irishman waiting with the teams kept hollering at him all the way down: "Let go! Let go!" Finally when he got to the bottom of the hill, they rushed there expecting to find him dead, but he got up to his feet, and one of them said to him: "Why didn't you let go when we hollered to you?" and he said:

"What in the devil should I let go for? Wasn't I on top half the time?" (Laughter.) That is the way with Morrison, he is on top half the time.

Morrison, you know, is Irish. There were two Irishmen in New York City, and they heard a gentleman talking to another about electrocution and that there was to be no more hanging. In talk the next day one of the Irishmen said: "There is no more hanging." "What," says the other, "no more hanging? If a man kills another, dont they hang him?" "No more," was the reply. "No more? How is that? What do they do?" "Oh, they kill him by elocution." (Laughter.) Morrison was the Irish sergeant of an Irish company in the war. One day Morrison says to one of his men, "Pat, you are the dumbest man I ever knew. I have been trying to get some knowledge into you ever since you have been in the service." Pat says, "Well, that is all right. But I have got a brother that is worse than me." Morrison says, "a brother that is worse than you?" "Sure I have," says Pat. Morrison says, "Well, what in the name of sense did they do with him?" "They made a sergeant of him," says Pat. (Laughter.)

I am told that I am only allowed ten minutes, but as I sat on the stage here tonight, and looked over this audience, and realized that this was a meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic forty years after the war in the great city of Erie, my mind went back through the years and I realized what a wonderful century we have lived in. And I go back to 1860, when the clouds began to gather, and to 1861, when, on the 4th of March, Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated President of the United States. He had been elected upon a platform with which many of the members of his party were not in strict accord, nor he with them. Throughout this great north-land there was a great minority that was not with him—a minority that was not willing to admit his claims to the presidency, that feared he would be lacking in strength of character and decision and will; and yet he was called on to carry on the greatest war in history. He knew that soldiers and sailors would come at his call, but without discipline and organization they would be no better than a mob; but at last that storm broke, and in April 1861 the news was flashed that they had struck Sumpter's wall and Sumpter had fallen. It was a bloodless achievement, but it was to usher in a war that would take the blood of thousands of our youths and millions of treasure. Lincoln issued his call. Foresters dropped their axes; fishermen left their boats, the farmer his plow, and they came down through New Hampshire and Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and the great State of New York, and Pennsylvania, glory of glories, placed the first men on duty, and from the first to the last Pennsylvania was foremost; and it went on to Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and the great northwest; and the long roll was sounded beyond the Mississippi; men were gathering from the prairies and the mountains; it reached the Pacific; and millions of the bravest and best men that the sun ever shone upon stood ready to defend the best flag and preserve the best country on earth.

For four long years that grand army fought and bled, and many of them died; they laid in the trenches at Vicksburg, and Petersburg; they fought in the Wilderness, and Chickamagua and Gettysburg, and some of the men from the city of Erie helped to carry that flag clear up to the top of Lookout Mountain and waved it above it. (Applause.)

In 1865 there came a day when the fighting was all over, when the flag was triumphant and the Union saved. And then a review of all our organizations took place up Pennsylvania Avenue, and then they were to disband and leave for their homes. I have often wondered what would have been the joy and the feelings of the great Abraham Lincoln if he could have stood in those days, in 1865, and seen those old armies that sustained and cheered him, as they did you and me, during all those four years of strife. What would have been his feelings if he could have viewed that as commander-in-chief of a united people, the wilderness passed and the Red Sea crossed! What would have been his feelings if he could have returned the salute of Meade, of Custer, of Geo. Macey, of the 20th Massachusetts? What would have been the feelings of Abraham Lincoln if he could have stood there and returned the salute of the Commander of the 9th Corps; and the 5th Corps; and then what would have been his feelings to have saluted the Commander of the glorious Second Corps? What would have been his feelings if he could have seen those great armies pass by?

Out of those great armies have come this Grand Army of the Republic, composed of the soldiers and sailors that made up the great host that saved this nation for us, and brought the security and happiness and contentment that we enjoy. The men of the Grand Army of the Republic have taught patriotism in this great land; they have marched from ocean to ocean, and they have taken with them the old standards that were ragged and torn, and men have stood uncovered in their holy presence in cities and towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Let us hope that the devotion and patriotism of the men of the Grand Army of the Republic and the men of the old army and the old navy, will be an inspiration to the men of the future that will keep them true to their country and make them faithful defenders of the honor of their flag. (Applause.)

The Temple Quartet then rendered a selection, which was followed by a recitation by T. W. Shacklett, and a flute solo by James D. Cavanaugh, all of which were greatly enjoyed by those present.

After the quartet had sung "Welcome to the Heroes," all present arose to their feet and joined in singing "America,"

THE PARADE WAS AN INSPIRING SIGHT.

Hosts of Age-Dimmed Veterans Marched With the Vigor and Buoyancy of Youth, Reinvigorated by the Music so Remindful of the Troublous Long Ago.

The people of Erie looked on a scene this morning they will never again witness in all probability—serried ranks of veterans of a war which has no parallel in history, the remnant of a rapidly thinning host of defenders of flag and country whom the ruthless hand of time is decimating to utter distinction within the next decade, leaving fragrant memories of glorious achievements and undying devotion to a loved country.

And it was a pathetic spectacle, despite the joyous exuberance of the old boys stepping out with the tread of youth to the inspiring tunes to which they had marched to victory in the dark and troublous days of war. Many were the empty sleeves and seared with the scars of battle and bowed down with the weight of years were the gallant old fellows who in the inspiration of the moment forgot their infirmities and their age under the folds of old glory everywhere conspicuous in the line nodding graceful accompaniment to the soul-stirring music of Dixie, Marching Through Georgia and the other martial pieces played by the bands.

The parade started promptly on time from the assembling place on West Sixth street and the parks Thomas H. Cole marshalled the first division, which was headed by the Fraser Highlander band of 40 pieces in their tall shakos, playing music into the heels of all listeners, the bagpipes and drums taking up the refrain when the brass had concluded and supplying incessant marching music. Behind the Highlanders came Judge Walling, Clark Olds, Esq., W. B. Trask and other members of the executive committee of civilians in silk hats, and then followed in perfect step and alignment the marines and sailors from the United States steamer Wolverine and khaki-uniformed Co. G, Sixteenth regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, under command of Capt. Pudenz, forming the most fitting escort for the veterans who followed. Next in line were the carriages containing the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Hon. Charles G. Burton, of Missouri, and Louis Wagner, Robert R. Beath, Thomas J. Stewart and J. P. S. Gobin, past commanders-in-chief, followed by the officers of the Wolverine, in carriages. This was an inspiring sight, this first division of regulars, militia and distinguished civilians, and an appropriate vanguard for the columns of veterans which came after.

Bucktails Prominent.

At the head of the second division rode George W. Fassett, and Comrade W. S. Rovse was the drum major in advance of Demuling's band, marking the time with the grace of an Atonis. To the martial strains of Demuling's superb organization of musicians stepped the officers of the Department of Pennsylvania and the delegates to the forty-second encampment and scattered members of posts of the G. A. R., the line of this division being here and there dotted with the bucktail adornment, distinguishing the representatives of the famous Bucktails mustered and commanded by General Kane. In this division also marched Post No. 139, of Scranton, all singing "As We Go Marching Along," and arousing the wildest enthusiasm throughout the route of march. And these gallant old fellows marched, not with the mincing, uncertain step of age, but with bold, firm tread of spirit which had been called back to the strength and valor of four decades of past and gone years, when the heart glowed with patriotism and a strong man dared to do and die in defense of his country.

Veterans From the Home.

At this point in the line came the veterans from the Soldiers' Home all in regulation uniform and headed by their own fife and drum corps, Commander Martin and Quartermaster Shirk marching at the head of the column. Old age and decrepitude appeared a long way removed from these veterans as they stepped out in time to the inspiring strains of the fife and drum corps, and the armed detachment of old boys who marched in advance, called to mind the scenes which marked the return of the soldier boys in 1865.

The third division was headed by Kohler's band, the members of the Northwestern association of the G. A. R., and a long line of veterans stepping with the spirit and vim of youth, many of them singing the songs of the old days and all demeaning themselves in emulation of that valor which had won victories and decided the fate of a nation, marching with the readiness and buoyancy which is oblivious of fatigue so long as the old flag floated in proud eminence before them. Proudft post, of Edinboro with the band composed of students at the state normal school, and the post from Fairview marched in the third division.

The Spirit of '76.

Then came the Continental fife and drum corps evoking applause all along the line, blowing their fifes and beating their drums with the vigor characteristic of the spirit of '76, and to that soul-stirring music marched with full ranks Strong Vincent post, No. 67, every member showing the elation he felt in being the host of the brave comrades who went from Pennsylvania and survived the carnage of battle to participate in the exercises of the forty-second encampment of the department of the Keystone State. The boys' band of Greenville headed the contingent of veterans bringing up the rear and the whole parade was an edifying spectacle of the real soldiers of the nation—the heroes who went out in eager response to the call of "Father Abraham" and participated in battles which have left the deepest impress on the blood stained pages of history.

Its like will never be witnessed hereabout again, and those ranks of veterans, bowed by time and the consequence of wounds received in the defense of their flag told their own story of an epoch in the nation's history when disintergration threatened and appeared imminent the division of a statehood which was decreed to be one and inseparable.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE
42nd Annual Encampment,
DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA,
GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,
HELD AT ERIE, PENNSYLVANIA,
June 3, and 4, 1908.

The Forty-second Department Encampment was called to order in the Majestic Theater at 11.40 a. m. on the above date, by Department Commander W. T. Powell, and opened with prayer by the Department Chaplain, Comrade John W. Sayres, as follows:

Almighty God our Father, we rejoice that we are permitted to meet this morning in our annual Encampment. We give Thee thanks for the innumerable mercies lavished upon us. We confess before Thee our sins. We ask in Jesus' name for the pardon of our sins. We pray that Thou wilt pour out Thy spirit upon us. We pray that at the very beginning of our Encampment and to its close, the spirit of charity and brotherliness may prevail. Bless the absent comrades, bless those who are sick and in affliction in the evening of their lives, comfort and sustain them. Bless the families that are in sorrow over loved ones that have fallen out of our ranks. Bless all of our homes, and whilst we are absent from them, may nothing occur to bring sorrow to our hearts. We pray Thy blessing upon our order, upon those who have been elected as our leaders. We beseech of Thee that Thou wilt bless our nation, the President of the United States, and all who are joined with him in authority. We commend ourselves to Thee. Take care of us while we live, and at last bring us all home to heaven. Hear our prayer and grant it through Jesus Christ, who taught us to pray, Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.

Assistant Adjutant General, Chas. A. Suydam called the roll of the officers of the Encampment and then moved that, inasmuch as the Committee on Credentials were prepared to report, the reading of the roll of delegates be dispensed with.

Comrade Eisenbrown of Post 115 stated the motion was out of order and insisted that the roll of delegates be read.

Commander Powell ruled that Comrade Eisenbrown was out of order and stated that the resolution of Assistant Adjutant General Suydam was before the Encampment for action.

The motion was then put and the ayes seemed to prevail.

Comrade Eisenbrown demanded that a division be had.

Commander then called upon a rising vote and directed the Adjutant to count the comrades while the comrades were standing.

The count resulted in yeas 176, nays 74, and the motion was declared adopted.

The Assistant Adjutant General presented the report of the Committee on Credentials, which was read to the Encampment as follows:

Erie, June 3, 1908.

William T. Powell, Department Commander:

Comrade: The Committee on Credentials submit their report.

8-1908-G. A. R.

Present:

Department Officers,	13
Past Department Commanders,	14
Post Commanders and Representatives,	510

Total number present, 537

Fraternally submitted,

CHARLES A. SUYDAM,

Assistant Adjutant General,

GEORGE F. PETERS, Post No. 128,

HUGH J. SHANNON, Post No. 71,

W. S. HANNA, Post No. 289,

JOHN N. REBER, Post No. 191,

On motion duly seconded, that the report of the Committee on Credentials be approved, it was agreed to.

Address of the Department Commander.

Comrades:

Time's ceaseless march brings us again to the close of another year, and it becomes my duty to render to you a report of my stewardship.

When I assumed the duties as Department Commander in June, 1907, I did so with some degree of fear and trembling as to my ability to acquit myself of the duties devolving upon me. I had some conception of what would be expected, but as time passed, I realized more and more how great were the responsibilities, and can only say to you that I have done my best to measure up to the work and duties of the high office with which you honored me.

In submitting my report, I shall be as brief as possible. If I have failed in discharging the duties which came to me, nothing that I could say at this time would make up for opportunities lost or duties undischarged.

I have visited during the past year, seventy-eight Posts, and have attended many reunions of regiments, batteries, county associations and public meetings, that were held under the auspices of the comrades of the Grand Army, the Ladies Auxiliaries, and Sons of Veterans, in all having addressed 128 different gatherings, and have traveled (including my trip to the National Encampment) 14,000 miles circular. At the Post meetings, there were invariably a great many visiting comrades from other Posts, and at the open meetings, a large number of veterans who are not connected with the Grand Army. We have encouraged these open meetings because they have not only brought the members of our organization and the citizens closer together, but have been patriotic object lessons and have been instrumental in securing a number of recruits.

From observation, I believe the members of the Grand Army of the Republic were never closer than they are to-day, and a sincere spirit of fraternity not only controls their actions in the Post room, but as individuals, one toward another, thus making a unanimity of action as well as of feeling.

I regret exceedingly that a great number of invitations received, it was impossible to accept on account of previous engagements, frequently a number of them occurring on the same date. The comrades throughout this jurisdiction will appreciate this fact and realize my inability to respond to all requests, notwithstanding the fact that I felt highly honored in receiving them.

THE 41ST NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

Was held in Saratoga, N. Y., and the Department of Pennsylvania was well and fully represented by its officers, representatives, Past-National and Department Commanders, who attended all the sessions, manifesting a keen interest and actively participating in all the work of the Encampment, and, as usual, commanded the attention and respect that has characterized this Department in the National Encampments of former years. The instructions to your representatives by the Department Encampment at Easton, relative to the increase of the widow's pension from $8.00 to $12.00 per month, was carried out, and the matter properly presented to the National Encampment, and action taken thereon by them, with the result that it has now become a law.

During the parade, notwithstanding the continuous downpour of rain, the Department marched over the entire route in their usual soldierly manner, while the multitudes demonstrated their admiration, not only for the discipline displayed under adverse conditions, but for the nerve required and the devotion to our organization. We were escorted by "Post 2 Veteran Guard," and we embrace this opportunity to return the thanks of the Department to the officers and comrades of that command. They were well equipped and drilled, their marching superb, and they commanded not only respect and the admiration of the comrades of this Department, but also of the people that lined the sidewalks.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME.

On February 17th, accompanied by Assistant Adjutant General Charles A. Suydam, I visited the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Erie. We were escorted through the buildings by Commandant Captain Sylvester H. Martin, inspecting every department, and were favorably impressed with the evidence of careful and competent management with a view to the comfort and convenience of the inmates.

I greeted every comrade, and with the exception of a few of those ill, they seemed to be cheerful and happy. I was personally acquainted with a number of the inmates, and talked to them, and without exception they seemed to be thoroughly contented and to have a high appreciation of their treatment, and commended the good management and attention bestowed upon them by the Commandant and his subordinates. They expressed their gratitude to the State for providing such a home, and to the Board of Trustees for its equipment, and their satisfaction that the Board had been looking after all minor details with an eye single to their personal comfort and enjoyment. At this date, the capacity of the Home is 640; the number of inmates, 462. The capacity of the Hospital 80, with 67 patients.

My greatest surprise was, taking into account the beautiful location of the Home and its surroundings, that it was not filled to its fullest capacity. The fact that it is not, speaks well for Pennsylvania survivors. It gives evidence of the fact that the comrades feel like maintaining their independence and supporting themselves as long as possible.

This home is situated on high land, overlooking Lake Erie, and the grounds are attractive. The tables in the dining room are furnished with table linen and napkins, and individual butter dishes for each member. The discipline enforced is only that which is necessary to protect the weak against the strong. If any eligible is to-day without a home, the fault must certainly be with himself.

All pensioners are allowed, for their own use, while in the Home, four dollars per month of their pension money; the balance will be sent to dependents, if pensioners so request, otherwise it is paid over to the Treasurer for the benefit of the pensioners. They receive a pension account book showing the amount received from pension agent, the amount paid to pensioner, and the amount placed to his credit. Upon going on furlough, they will be allowed a sum equal to carfare both ways, and a further sum equal to one dollar per day during the term of the furlough, not exceeding thirty days. Upon taking their discharge from the Home, they receive a draft from the Treasurer for the money remaining to their credit. Upon his death, such monies go to his legal heirs, if demand is made within three years from date of death.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORP.

This noble and patriotic organization has demonstrated by its work during this year, as in former years, its usefulness by consistent and persistent work in assisting Posts in various ways, and especially in its great work of relieving veterans in distress, or those now or once depending on them.

I visited the Brookville Memorial Home on January 8. I met with the Board of Directors in their quarterly meeting, and visited every department. This home is controlled by the Relief Corps, and is for the veterans, their wives, mothers, daughters, and ex-army nurses. It has accommodations for about 80, and 65 inmates. There was every evidence of good management, everything pleasant and homelike, and the inmates contented. This home is one of the monuments to the loyalty and fidelity of the Relief Corps for the veterans of '61-65, and too much praise cannot be given them and the Board of Directors for their work, and for the fraternal and business like manner in which the home is conducted.

LADIES OF THE G. A. R.

This well known organization is composed of the wives, widows, mothers, sisters, daughters, &c., of the veterans of the Civil War. It was my privilege and pleasure to meet and speak at many open meetings through the State where the Relief Corps or Circles of the Ladies of the G. A. R. attended in a body, sometimes both organizations attending the same meeting, which to me was a matter of great gratification. There seems to be a friendly rivalry between the two great organizations, trying to see which can do the most to help the Grand Army.

I visited the Home at Hawkins Station, owned, managed and controlled by the Ladies of the G. A. R. It contains about 59 inmates, composed of mothers, widows, sisters and daughters of veterans. The building is finely located, well equipped, and the inmates contented and as happy as may be expected under the circumstances. Everything about the home gives evidence of good management.

HOME FOR THE AGED VETERAN AND WIFE.

This home is located at 65th and Vine Streets, Philadelphia, is a local institution, being cared for by the Circles of the Ladies of the G. A. R. of the City of Philadelphia and vicinity. The comfort and well fare of the inmates is looked after by a Board of Managers, which is an evidence that they will be well cared for. They have recently finished the third floor, by which accommodations are provided for some 40 persons.

AUXILIARIES.

During the year, I have come in contact with many auxiliaries to Post and county organizations. They are composed of loyal ladies, many of them mothers, wives, widows, daughters and grand-daughters of veterans. They have done and are doing a noble work, and I deem it a duty and privilege to give recognition to their work.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The Sons of Veterans have done and are doing a good work and rendering great assistance to the Grand Army of the Republic. To them should come the work of perpetuating the service of their fathers. If the natural heirs to the work of the Grand Army in the persons of the Sons do not look after the father and his interests in his declining years, do not decorate the graves, teach patriotism and call attention to the vast cost in blood and money and the great good that came to the people and country through the sacrifices made by their sires, then upon whom should this work devolve and this mantel rest? Our personal knowledge and experience with the Sons of Veterans is, that they are not only willing and ready but are doing this work cheerfully and well whenever opportunity offers. In some cases, the comrades have been slow to solicit cooperation. In many cases, the Sons have hesitated to throw themselves into the breach and insist upon having the privilege of relieving the comrades of certain work. For this reason, in some localities the relations have been somewhat strained, because there was a lack of confidence in each other through misunderstanding and lack of proper unanimity of feeling which should exist, but we are pleased to note that throughout the Department there is not only a revival of interest in the Sons of Veterans, but their relations are more pleasant with the Grand Army and their work more earnest and highly appreciated than in former years. The sires and sons realize that while one cannot take the place of the other, yet their objects and aims are the same and can be taken better care of by working together and helping each other.

I have the greatest admiration for their organization. It has come to me through actual knowledge of their labor and active work with them for 25 years, and am glad to have the opportunity to commend them and their work, to every Post and comrade of the Grand Army. If you have not a camp of Sons of Veterans connected with your Post or in your vicinity, Comrades, my advice to you is to have one organized. The boys are willing, but they need the counsel and advice of the comrades and they are willing, in return, to render all the assistance in their power.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS SCHOOLS.

On June 17, 1907, I visited the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphans School at Jumonville, accompanied by Comrades John P. J. Young of Post No. 236, and J. Lee Hurst of Post No. 59, (representing the Allegheny County Grand Army Association). The Hon. Thad. M. Mahon was present, representing the commission, and the Superintendent, Mr. J. A. Waters, extended every courtesy. We visited and examined every department, reviewed the boys in their military drills, and the girls in their calisthenic exercises, and attended the entertainment in the evening, which was of a miscellaneous character, and were very much pleased with the result of our visit. The exercises throughout the day demonstrated the careful teaching of the pupils both in mental and physical training, and reflected credit upon the management and the commission.

On April 21, 1908, accompanied by Senior Vice Commander Oliver A. Parsons, Assistant Adjutant General, Charles A. Suydam, and the Hon. John H. Riebel (a member of the Commission), we visited the Orphan School at Chester Springs. The Superintendent, Comrade Dr. H. B. Hughes, met and escorted us through the various buildings, and explained the mode and system by which the school is controlled. We had an opportunity to see the children at their studies and at their play, the boys at drill, the girls exercising, and met them all in the auditorium where we spent a pleasant hour. Too much praise cannot be given the superintendent and his assistants and co-workers for the magnificent manner in which this school is conducted, also to the commission, for the comfort and convenience of the home, and the systematic and economical manner in which it is managed.

On April 22, accompanied by the Senior Vice-Department Commander, Oliver A. Parsons, and Comrades J. Henry Holcomb and Richard H. Holgate, I visited the Soldiers' Orphans Industrial School, located at Scotland, Pa., and was met by Col. W. C. Bambrick, Principal and Military Instructor, who extended the courtesies of the home to us (Capt. G. W. Skinner, the Superintendent, being seriously ill.) We met at the home of the Hon. Thad. A. Mahon, one of the commission, who explained the entire system and mode of education, intellectual, mechanical, military and domestic. We were pleased and gratified beyond words to express. The system is a credit to the commission, and the execution of the system an honor to the Superintendent and his subordinates. We noted machinery built and entirely completed, carpentry and cabinet work, printing, uniforms and other clothing made for the boys, and suits for the girls, all mending both of clothes and shoes, and the laundring done by the inmates. This work would have been a credit to any establishment following any of these lines of business. At this school, as at the others, we had the military review, and calisthenic exercises by some 80 girls, and then met the faculty and entire school in Home Chapel, and had a very pleasant, and we trust profitable visit. On this occasion, as at the other schools we visited, there were short addresses and music. We would weary you if we attempted to express to you all we had seen and our impressions of the Soldiers' Orphans Schools of Pennsylvania, with their educational system, bands, physical and military culture, mechanical and domestic instructions. Suffice to say, that great credit is due Pennsylvania for the establishment of these schools, and the people of this Commonwealth (and especially the veterans of '61 and '65) are under obligations to the Commission for the practical manner in which the laws creating and sustaining the Soldiers' Orphans Schools have been executed, and we believe that the State has been well repaid for any expenditure of money, in the more than 22,000 educated and cultured boys and girls as a result of this work.

MEMORIAL DAY.

With the near approach of each Memorial Day comes renewed interest in all that pertains to it, demonstrating the unanimity of feeling prevailing among the comrades with reference to the sacredness of the occasion. While the soldier life has been o'er for many years, the comrades reverently remember the boys who marched, bivouacked and fought with them, and on Memorial Day, silently, sorrowfully and reverently plant the flowers upon the graves, demonstrating the fact that they cherish their memory and honor their deeds.

We trust that our precept and example may be emulated more and more, and the people strengthened to make it the patriotic day that was intended, and to discourage the tendency to change it into a day of frivolity, festivity and sport, which would lead them to forget the sacred occasion and the tribute they owe to their own dead.

DEPARTMENT OFFICERS AND STAFF.

Your special attention is called to the reports of the various Staff Officers. I commend them to your most careful consideration. They will show the gains and losses, present strength, receipts and disbursements of money, and inform you of the condition of this Department. Collectively, these reports give a complete history of the year's work.

Senior Vice Department Commander, Oliver A. Parsons, accompanied me on a great many of my visitations throughout the State and rendered great assistance. He performed his duty with energy and dignity, and left a good impression among the comrades.

Junior Vice Department Commander A. S. Moyer, spent one week with me in visiting the Posts in the east. He answered every call and demonstrated his interest in our order.

Department Chaplain, Rev. John W. Sayres, D. D., needs no comment by me. He has served us long and faithfully, always willing, always ready, continually looking after the temporal as well as the spiritual welfare of the comrades and their families. He is enshrined in the hearts of the comrades of this department. May his life and health be preserved many, many years to continue his good work.

The Council of Administration, Comrades Lemon Buch, Theodore F. Turner, Jonas H. Dettre, John Dougherty and H. T. Stanwood transacted the business confided to their care in a prompt, intelligent, conservative and business like manner, always looking after the interest of the Department. They deserve your commendation.

Assistant Adjutant General, Charles A. Suydam, is so well and favorably known throughout the Department, not only for his congeniality and good fellowship, but for his prompt, intelligent, methodical and expeditious manner of transacting business and looking after the affairs of the Department, that no words of mine could add to a higher appreciation than that in which he is held by his comrades. A more enthusiastic, devoted, painstaking and unselfish officer I have never known, and it is impossible for me to find language to express my gratitude to him for his aid, counsel and assistance. He has accompanied me on a great many of my visitations, and through his thoughtfulness, the way was opened up by which our meetings were made pleasant, and, we believe, profitable. May his life long be spared to demonstrate in the future, as it has in the past, what unselfish and sincere devotion to office, its duty, and the cause he represents, means.

C. F. Gramlich, the genial Assistant Quartermater General, has looked after the finances of this Department in a practical and business like manner. It is his rule to visit headquarters every day (unless absent from the city). In addition to the duties of his office, he has accompanied me on many of our visitations, and with his soldierly bearing and practical talks, has added much to the interest of the administration.

Department Inspector, William H. Green, brought with him into his office, his experience of former years. He has done his work promptly, and demonstrated his fitness for the routine work connected with his position.

Edwin W. Jackson, Judge Advocate, was not called upon for legal opinions, but has demonstrated his efficiency and ability, and extended every courtesy and assistance to the Department Commander.

Charles O. Smith, Department Patriotic Instructor, has been one of my principal standbys during the year. His patriotism amounts to heroism. He has accompanied me on very many visitations, and has represented the Department Commander a number of times where engagements conflicted, and to my personal knowledge has had many demands upon his time and ability, from schools and other patriotic organizations. He has acquitted himself with credit to himself and honor to this Department. His work is a very important one, and we question whether, with the continuous influx of the foreign element into our country, the importance of his position is fully realized.

Chief Mustering Officer, B. J. Coll, has demonstrated by his active work the importance of the position which he has honored. Not only without hesitation, but with enthusiasm, has he attended to the details of his office, but has responded to every demand made upon him by the Department Commander. I have been proud to have him accompany me on many of my visitations, and his reminiscences and practical talks have been received with great enthusiasm by the comrades.

Medical Director, Albert M. Smith, M. D., whose characteristic is to be on the firing line when there is any work to be done, has performed all the duties devolving upon him with discretion, enthusiasm and intelligence. He has honored the position to which he was appointed.

W. H. H. Lea, Chief of Staff, is, without exception, one of the most enthusiastic comrades in the Department. He has not only filled all the requirements of his office with intelligence and discretion, but also accompanied me on very many of my visitations, and did much good work. His plea continually advocates recruiting, and no one can more consistently advocate that plea, as it is a recognized fact that any worthy veteran of the Civil War, not a member of the Grand Army, who lives within three miles of Comrade Lea's Post, he will have his application because he will work until he secures it.

Comrade John N. Reber, Clerk at Headquarters, attends to the duties of his position in a courteous, systematic and business like manner, for all of which I extend to him my sincere thanks.

IN MEMORIAM.

The grim reaper, death, has invaded our ranks during the year, with the result that many of our comrades have answered the last roll call.

Having finished their life work on earth, they have been summoned before the Great Commander to the encampment above. They are missed at home, and when their name is called in the Post room and Encampment, there is no answer. We miss our former comrades and coworkers, and while the places that have known them will know them no more on earth, we cherish and revere their memories, and while they have left us, their deeds of kindness and influence will continue to live. We extend sympathy to the relatives of our deceased comrades, and mourn with them their loss.

CONCLUSION.

Comrades:

The honor you conferred upon me one year ago, I appreciate to the fullest extent. I have worked most earnestly, giving my time, whatever talent I possessed, and exercised my best judgment, with the one thought predominating in all my work, to do the best I could to sustain, if not to build up, the Department, and to see that it maintained the high standard which it has held for many years. I desired most earnestly to demonstrate, not in theory but in practical work, that the confidence reposed in me by my election was not misplaced. It is human to err, and I have no doubt but that I may have made mistakes, but I have done the best I could and trust that my efforts have met with your approval. If the administration has not been a success, then the responsibility resting upon me is great, because the Encampment at Easton certainly made no mistake in the election of the Senior and the Junior Vice Commander, the Chaplain, Medical Director, and Council of Administration, and if there is one thing more than another that I am proud of, it is of the fact that my appointments on my personal staff have been comrades most earnest in their work. Their counsel and advice have aided me very materially. The Aides on my staff have been untiring in their work, and the comrades throughout the Department, without exception, have extended to me the glad hand and have co-operated with me in my work.

To the Officers, Staff, Aides, and Comrades, I extend my most grateful and heartfelt thanks. May sunshine illumine your path, peace permeate your hearts, and long life be accorded you for further usefulness.

Assistant Adjutant General: Inasmuch as the Department Commander has presented and read his address, I move that the further reading of the reports of the respective officers be dispensed with, and that the address of the Department Commander, and as also the other reports be referred to the committees appointed to consider the same.

The motion having been seconded, it was agreed to.

Report of the Senior Vice Department Commander.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Senior Vice Department Commander,
Wilkes-Barre, May 14, 1908.

CHAS. A. SUYDAM,

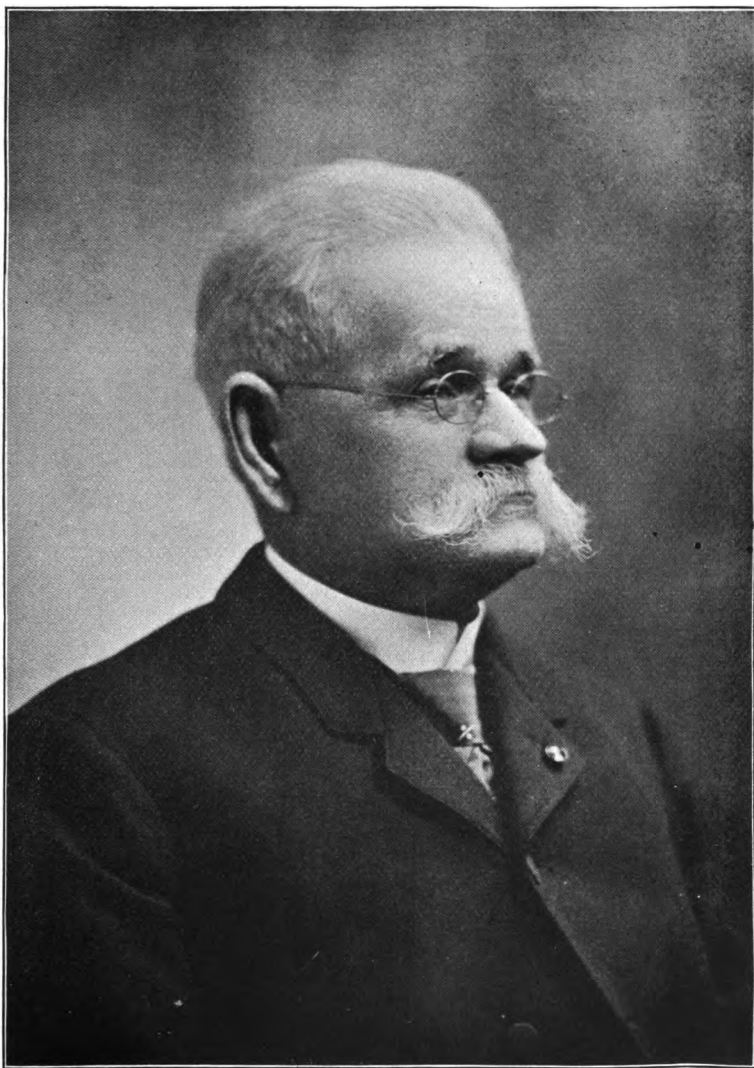

Comrade: I have the honor to submit the following report as Senior Vice Department Commander of the Department for the year ending June 3, 1908.

Attended the National Encampment at Saratoga. Took part in Grand Parade and all of the meetings. Attended reunion of Bradford county Veteran Association August 21 and 22 at Wyalusing. Addresses by Past Department Commander Wilt and others. Attended reunion of the 141 Regt. P. V. at Monroeton, Bradford Co., August 28. Business meeting in the morning, Camp fire in the afternoon. Among the speakers was Past Department Commander Hull, and Chaplain David Craft of the 141 Regt. P. V. Attended the 41st reunion of the 143 Regt. P. V., September 25 held in Memorial Hall, Wilkes-Barre. The veterans were welcomed by Mayor Kirkendall, the principal speaker was Harry C. Hubler, a son of a member of the Regiment.

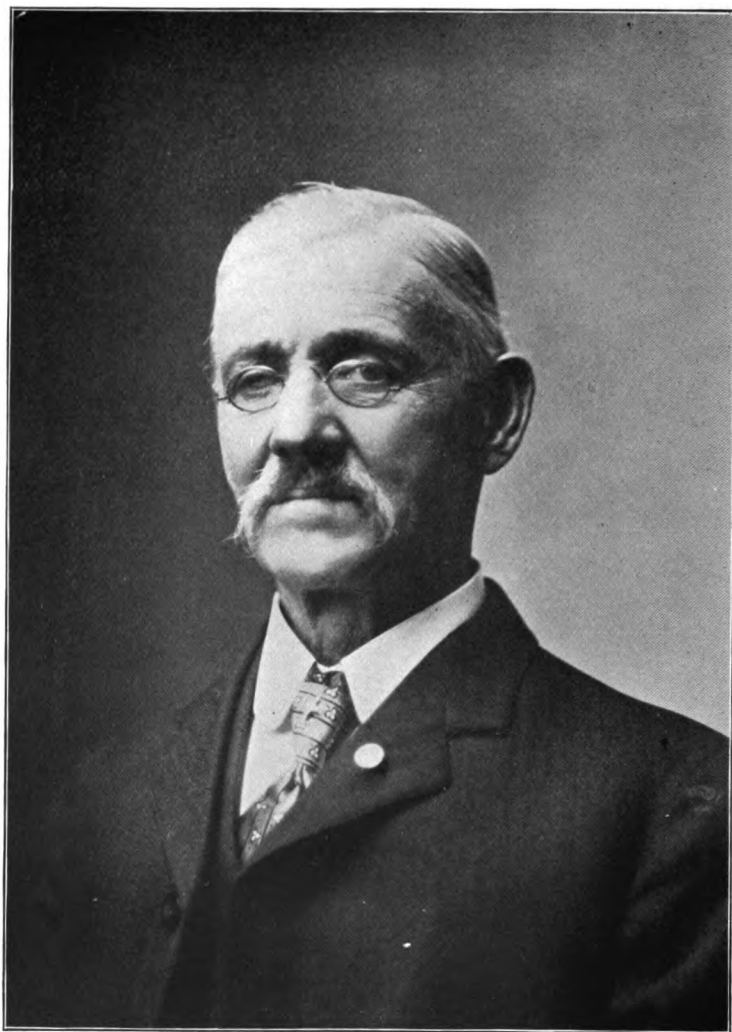

October 22 visited Post 20 of Hazleton with inspection officer Comrade D. S. Clark. After inspection the Woman's Relief Corps served a lunch. Accompanying us was Inspector-at-Large, Comrade Frank Baab. Attended a meeting of Post 499 of Sweet Valley, November 7 at the home of Comrade Snyder. At noon the Comrades wives served us a "sheep roast" which we all enjoyed very much. After enjoying all the good things the ladies had prepared we held a Camp fire and spent the afternoon in relating incidents of the war.

Spent third week of November in company of Department Commander William T. Powell and Staff and Junior Vice Commander A. S. Moyer in visiting Posts in Philadelphia and vicinity. December 5 visited Post 213 of Huntington Mills. December 6th visited Post 257 of Shickshinny. December 7th visited Post 283 of Fairmount Springs. The meeting was held in the afternoon at Benton, as it was more convenient for the Comrades to hold their meeting there, than in their Post room at Fairmount Springs. The attendance at the Posts were large, over seventy per cent. of their members attending, some of them coming ten and fifteen miles.

January 1st installed the officers of Conyngham Post No. 97. January 6th accompanied by P. F. Weltroth, I installed the officers of Lieut. C. B. Post, Post No. 257 of Shickshinny. January 14th attended the public installation of officers of Post 41, of Pittsburg Department Com-

OLIVER A. PARSONS,
Senior Vice Department Commander, 1907-1908.

A. S. MOYER,
Junior Vice Department Commander, 1907-1908.

mander Wm. T. Powell was the installing officer. Attended a reunion of the 61st Regt. Pa. V. V., Pittsburg, January 15th.

The first week in February accompanied Department Commander William T. Powell and Staff in visiting Post No. 20 of Hazleton, Post 97 of Wilkes-Barre, Post 68 of Towanda and 139 of Scranton. Large attendance at each of the above Posts. At the meeting of Post 68, some of the Comrades came twenty-five miles.

I find in visiting the Posts through the country-the percentage of attendance is greater than in the towns and cities.

I also find that there are a large number of soldiers who are eligible to membership still outside of our ranks. I think the Posts are in a measure to blame, many have raised the muster fee so high that it is most impossible to get recruits as a large majority of those outside of our ranks are men of small means.

Yours in F. C. & L.,

OLIVER A. PARSONS,
Senior Vice Department Commander

Report of the Junior Vice Department Commander.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Junior Vice Department Commander,
Allentown, May 13, 1908.

CHAS. A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

My Dear Comrade: I herewith present my report for the year ending June, 1908, and take this opportunity to return my gratitude to my Comrades for elevating me to the high and honorable office of Junior Vice Department Commander. I assure them that their kindness will be a life long endearment to me.

In my official capacity I visited various Posts, and without a single exception was cordially received, and have found that the Comrades are more closely knitted together as the years roll by and display that warm brotherly spirit which I so heartily commend.

In my visits to the various Posts I have always urged the recruiting of new members, and the bringing back those who at one time were active workers in our beloved cause.

I attended Camp Fires and anniversaries of Posts, and Sons of Veterans and was highly pleased with the warm soldierly greeting, and the strong loyal sentiment expressed, left their deep impression upon me, showing their love and veneration for our Grand Army of the Republic, so dear to us all.

I have on all occasions tried to impress upon the Sons of Veterans the more general observance of Memorial Day, explaining to them that in a few short years the grandeur of that celebration would fall upon their shoulders, that they alone will be left to attend to that beautiful ceremony.

In conclusion let me return my thanks to my Comrades for the many acts of kindness extended to me, assuring them that the memory will be a solace to me during life.

Respectfully submitted in F. C. & L.,

A. S. MOYER.

I have given my entire attention to the duties of this office during your administration, in addition to which I have made many visits to Posts, Regimental and county re-unions, installed the officers of nine Posts, and one camp of the Sons of Veterans and in every way possible I have tried to do my duty in keeping the Department in a high state of efficiency.

Appended herewith is Exhibit, A, giving the losses and gains by Posts, from December 31, 1906, to December 31, 1907, also Exhibit, B, showing the number of Posts, as also the membership at the close of each year from 1867 to 1907, both years inclusive.

In closing I extend to you my sincere thanks for the appointment conferred by you, in making me a member of your official Staff, your uniform courtesy and consideration have lightened my duties, and leaves the year one of very pleasant memories.

To all others associated with me on the Staff, and to the many very many Comrades throughout the Department, with whom I have come in contact either in person or correspondence, who have been so fraternal and considerate, I return to them my most earnest thanks.

Fraternally yours,

CHARLES A. SUYDAM,

CHRISTIAN F. GRAMLICH,
Assistant Quartermaster General, 1907-1908.

Report of the Assistant Quartermaster General.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Assistant Quartermaster General,
Philadelphia, May 16, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the office of Assistant Quartermaster General for the fiscal year now closing.

Notwithstanding the decrease in membership, our finances are in good condition, we are studying economy as far as we can, without jeopardizing the interest of the Department.

Year after year is gliding into the retreating perspective of the past, but the year about to close, has been one of splendid memories, mingling and grasping the hand of my Comrades and getting in closer touch during our declining years, it was very gratifying to see the interest manifested by the Comrades of the different Posts, during the official visit of Department Commander.

I appreciate the great honor conferred one year ago, at Easton, Penna. by Department Commander William T. Powell, in selecting me as his Assistant Quartermaster General, and take this opportunity of thanking him for the confidence reposed in me; his genial manner has made thousands of friends in the Department, also thanking you for the many courtesies received, may you survive many more summers and winters, in order that you may continue the good work for this Department.

I desire also to thank Comrade John' N. Reber, Department Clerk, for his untiring devotion to duty, and his many courtesies extended to me, during my fiscal year, also to the Department Officers and Staff, Members of the Council of Administration and Comrades of the Department.

There is no outstanding indebtedness, every bill or account has been paid and the books, vouchers, checks, deposit books, etc., etc., have been duly audited, showing amount of cash and value of bonds belonging to the Department.

I desire to call attention to the liberal contribution of two hundred dollars ($200) by Comrade J. L. Adams of Post No. 141, for music at National Encampment, Saratoga Springs, N. Y. $175 was paid to Doring's Band of Troy, New York leaving a balance of $25 in hands of Assistant Quartermaster General.

Herewith I hand Abstracts No. 1 to No. 7 which show amount of cash and value of bonds transferred to me by my predecessor, detailing every item of receipts during the year and showing every expense paid after its approval by the Council of Administration.

Abstract I. Current account.

Abstract II. Receipts from per capita tax.

Abstract III. Receipts from sale of supplies.

Abstract IV. Detail of disbursements.

Abstract V. Expended for purchase of supplies.

Abstract VI. Disbursements monthly.

Abstract VII. List of Supplies on hand, with cost.

Respectfully submitted in F. C. and L.,

CHRISTIAN F. GRAMLICH,

Assistant Quartermaster General.

WILLIAM H. GREEN,
Department Inspector, 1907-1908.

Report of the Department Inspector.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Department Inspector,
Philadelphia, April 6, 1908.

CHAS. A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Number of Posts the prospects of which are good,	131
Number of Posts the prospects of which are fair,	135
Number of Posts the prospects of which are poor,	161

The foregoing summary and tabulated report that follows show the splendid condition of the Department at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907.

I personally inspected a number of Posts and found great interest manifested by the officers and comrades and know that new life has been infused in many of the weaker Posts.

My every effort has been extended to strengthen the Department in its efficiency, and any success that has followed my efforts is largely due to the active co-operation of my associates, the assistant inspectors-at-large and the assistant inspectors to whom individually and collectively I return my sincere thanks.

Many of the inspectors report improved conditions and a bright out-look accompanied with last year's report. In many Posts they are holding together as best they can that they may be enabled to keep up the observance of Memorial Day, for which they are to be commended.

I desire to call especial attention to the inspectors of the following Posts, 1, 5, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 21, 35, 51, 114, at least 75 per cent. of their membership being present all of whom were in full uniform and the muster-in service was absolutely perfect in all details.

The Department Commander William T. Powell and my associates of the staff I am under special obligation for assistance in the duties I have been called upon to perform. The advice so cheerfully given by you lightened my duties to a great extent and for which I extend my thanks for these courtesies.

Fraternally yours,

WILLIAM H. GREEN,
Department Inspector.

Report of the Judge Advocate.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Judge Advocate,
Harrisburg, May 15, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: I have nothing to report except that no controversy or dispute of any kind has arisen making it necessary for the present Department Commander to call for my services as judge advocate in a single instance.

This goes to prove that unbroken good fellowship and true comradely feeling have prevailed, and I congratulate the Department upon this fact.

Yours in F., C. and L.,

EDWIN W. JACKSON,
Judge Advocate.

EDWIN W. JACKSON,
Judge Advocate, 1907-1908.

B. J. COLL,
Chief Mustering Officer, 1907-1908.

Report of the Chief Mustering Officer.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Chief Mustering Officer,

Pittsburg, May 15, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Dear Comrade: I have the honor to submit through you to the Forty-second Annual Department Encampment my report as Chief Mustering Officer for the year now drawing to a close.

I accompanied the Department Commander on his official visits to the Posts of this county (Allegheny) and the hearty, loyal, fraternal welcome which I received from the Comrades will be cherished by me while life lasts.

I have personally installed the officers of six Posts and upon my recommendation more than seventy special orders were issued providing for the installation of the officers of other Posts.

I would earnestly recommend that where it is possible, the installation of officers should be public. The people of the community in which a Post is located are as the years go by getting more anxious to hear the story of the war from the lips of those who were actual participants and in my opinion this desire on the part of the people (especially the youth) should as far as possible be gratified. I desire to thank Commander Powell for my appointment and assure him that I highly appreciate the honor.

With my best wishes to yourself and Comrades on the staff.

I am yours fraternally,

B. J. COLL,
Chief Mustering Officer.

Report of the Patriotic Instructor.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Patriotic Instructor,

Philadelphia, May 14, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Dear Sir and Comrade: I have the honor to present this, my third annual report as Department Patriotic Instructor, and, in doing so, beg to state that I will not endeavor to any great extent to cover what has been done but suggest what, in my opinion, should be done—judging from my experience of three years in this office and, “upon information received.” I am constrained to do this not only for “the good of the cause” but in the interest of my successor as well, for, while I would feel proud and greatly honored, I can not imagine the conditions that would permit my accepting a reappointment if one should be tendered me, which I do not anticipate.

For the same reason as given in my report of last year, we have not been able to complete a roster of the Post Patriotic Instructors, however, I believe this is not now so essential. It is presumed that every Post by this time, has its Patriotic Instructor, and, as he is an appointee of the Post Commander, communications intended for him can be sent through that officer with less labor and expense to the Department and, possibly with better results. Of course, all communications from the Comrades for this Department should be mailed direct to the Department Patriotic Instructor as heretofore.

The blank forms for annual reports, furnished through the office of National Patriotic Instructor could, in my opinion, be greatly improved if there were printed on them, suggestions and brief instructions, such as would be of real assistance to the comrades and enable them to do the work better, easier and more effectively. In the few years remaining for them to do this work, time is too precious to waste in collecting data for a report which, when complete, would only be a mass of uninteresting, unreliable statistical information. I am convinced that the work of this Department can be simplified and improved upon but, this would be too great a task for any one Comrade and should be referred to a special committee. This I recommend and trust our encampment will give it favorable consideration. “Peace hath its victories no less renowned than War” a truth never more impressive than now. Ignoring the forms already referred to, many

CHARLES O. SMITH,
Patriotic Instructor, 1907-1908.

Comrades have sent in valuable written reports confirming and reassuring me of the fact, that patriotism is not being neglected in this Department. Pennsylvania; the State upon whose soil "Old Glory" was born—the State, whose war Governor was the first to answer the call of Abraham Lincoln for aid to save the Nation, the State; that has always been to the fore-front in every great movement for the betterment of mankind, is losing none of its patriotic spirit, The people are maintaining their splendid record of co-operation and appreciation of the work and worth of the Grand Army of the Republic. New legislation "to prevent and punish the desecration of the United State's Flag," has been enacted. Memorial Day and all patriotic holidays and events receive recognition and are appropriately observed. Evidence of an increased interest in "Flag Day" (June 14) is gratifying to note. Let every Comrade by his example, remind the people of their duty upon that day. Show your colors; "Its your Flag—" "Its my Flag—" "Its their Flag—" and we, of Pennsylvania, above all others, should see that its Birthday is not forgotten by any one.

In closing this year, as one of Commander Powell's personal Staff, and the sixth year of my service as a Department officer, I wish I could bring out all that is in my heart of love for the Grand Army, for its Comrades and its comradeship and, adequately express my appreciation of all the honors bestowed on me. I have earned my retirement and, need the rest and freedom it will bring but, so long as God permits—my love for the Comrades and devotion to the Grand Army of the Republic will live. To Commander Powell and my associates of the Staff I can only say, but say it with all my heart—Thanks! Thanks! Thanks.

Of my personal work during the year, just ending, I have made no mention. The Commander and Comrades generally are familiar with this. If I have not "made good" it is now too late to do so.

Fraternally yours,

CHARLES O. SMITH,
Department Patriotic Instructor.

Report of the Medical Director.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Medical Director,
Beaver Springs, May 15, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: As "Medical Director" there are no specific duties upon which I can report, there are no reports or other data submitted from Posts, which would give information as to general conditions of our Comrades physically.

My attention is called to the fact that, all the deaths of members of our organization are not reported to Headquarters, this neglect should not continue, Post Adjutants should report the same in the semi-annual report, space for which has been provided.

Attention is frequently called to the apparently large numbers of deaths among our Comrades, and yet I venture the assertion that the percentage is less than among other members of other organizations, or other walks of life of the same age, as a rule those who served during the War for the suppression of the Rebellion, were the very best men the land produced, and to-day they are in better physical condition, than most other men of the same age, because they were "one of us" we note more particularly their death, as they leave us, let us close up the break, by touching the elbow right and left and move forward carrying on the work for which we are banded together.

I take this opportunity to express to my Comrades, the thanks that I feel are due them for the many courtesies extended to me at all times.

Yours in F., C. and L.,

Office of the Department Chaplain,
Chester, May 15, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: I have the honor herewith to present my annual report of Department Chaplain.

These reports dealing with the same matters annually, are of necessity similar in form and character from year to year. I have endeavored to the best of my ability so far as time and the pastoral duties of a large church permitted, to perform the work of the office to which I was elected and re-elected these many years.

I have preached during the year two special Grand Army sermons, and delivered two Memorial Day addresses, I have attended as many Post meetings as possible, and regret that I could not visit them all, I have also visited a number of Regimental Associations, and have in all possible ways sought to promote the interests of our order and its members. I have again and again, and with ever increasing frequency as age advances and infirmities overtake our Comrades, stood by the bedside of the sick and dying ones of our number, seeking to administer comfort and inspire hope in their last hours. And Oh how often during the past year have I stood by the graves of Comrades mustered out of service here, to go into camp on the farther shore, an unusually large number during the year have left us to join the great silent majority that has gone before.

The reports of Post Chaplains for Memorial Day, show that interest in the day has not ceased, or diminished to any appreciable extent and while in some sections our Comrades are but few in number, the young people inspired by the patriotism of their fathers, have shown a great willingness to help in properly observing the day. I believe they and their posterity can be depended upon, to ever keep green the memories of the men who went forth to defend the flag of their country.

"Dear old flag still ride the land, and span the sea, and fill the air,
Still stay the pride of the free, and the hope of the struggling,
Link thy folds, with the folds of the flag of the cross,
Float for God as well as man."

Thus as the years roll on, the one time vast army whose measured tread shook the very earth, marches with slower step and feebler tread, and thinner ranks. Not many years hence the last Soldier, Sailor and Marine of the Armies and Navy of the Civil War shall have gone into the voiceless, silent tomb. But this is not the end. Beyond the river in countless numbers are mustering our Comrades of the old days, who fought the fight and kept the faith, and now wear the crown. We but bivouac here. Let us be so true to our comradeship, so devoted in our service, so loyal in our thought and action, to the Great Commander of all the armies of earth and heaven, that amid the closing scenes of our earthly campaign we may approach the shadows of the dark valley, with unclouded faith and unfaltering courage. Cheered by glimpses of the brightness of the eternal morning, and be clothed with robes of victory.

Yours in F., C. and L.,

J. W. SAYERS,
Department Chaplain.

W. H. H. LEA,
Chief of Staff, 1907-1908.

Report of the Chief of Staff.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Office of the Chief of Staff,
Carnegie, May 14, 1908.

CHARLES A. SUYDAM, Assistant Adjutant General's Department
Pennsylvania G. A. R.:

Comrade: I have the honor to submit the following as my report for the term now ending. On assuming the office of Chief of Staff, so kindly tendered me by Department Commander, I did so with the intention of using my best efforts to advance the interests and fill up the thinned ranks of our beloved order.

Immediately after the General Order announcing the appointment of Aids on the Staff was sent out, I received letters from a large number of the Comrades accepting the positions and promising to do all they could to advance the interest of the Grand Army in their respective neighborhoods. Recruiting was the order of the day. Bright Camp Fires all along the line.

There is one, to my mind, a very important suggestion that I take pleasure in making to the Department at this time, as follows: That the time of holding our yearly Inspection, Nominations of Officers, Election of Officers, and Installation of Officers be changed; say, Inspection in May, nominations and elections in June, and installation in July, as it is at present, owing to the very cold weather and slippery walks, it is impossible to get the one quarter of the Membership to attend these, the most important meetings of the year to our Posts; I therefore submit this proposition with the greatest conviction that it would be for the building up of our Posts, and giving the older and infirm members a chance to take part in these important meetings. The cause for the change is plain to every officer of the Department who has visited the several Posts in his official capacity the past winter. During the term I have had the pleasure of visiting a great number of Posts, mostly in company with the Department Commander.

To the Staff I return my thanks for the kindness toward me on all occasions, to you, the Assistant Adjutant General, I desire to express my most sincere thanks for the courteous and kind treatment which you have accorded me at all times.

To Department Commander Wm. T. Powell I extend thanks, and assure him that I shall ever feel grateful for the honor which he conferred in selecting and appointing me his Chief of Staff. I need not say to you how faithfully he has performed the trust confided in him as Commander of the Department, nor tell you of the great work which he has done for our Organization during his term.

The bright sunshine of the future will stand in letters of gold, so that whoever will may read with pride of his honor and integrity as a man, a soldier, a comrade, and of his ability as Department Commander of the Keystone State.

Hoping that we may one and all be spared many years to continue the good work in which we are engaged.

I remain yours in F. C. and L.,

W. H. H. LEA,
Chief of Staff.

Chairman, Council of Administration, 1907-1908.

Report of the Council of Administration.

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Philadelphia, May 9, 1908.

Comrade: The Council of Administration present their report for the year ending with the close of this administration.

The meetings were held on the fourth Friday of each month, details of which are set forth in the minutes immediately following this report.

We hereby certify that we have this day audited the accounts of the Assistant Quartermaster General, C. F. Gramlich, and vouch for their correctness, as follows:

In addition to the foregoing the Assistant Quartermaster General has supplies on hand valued at $80.70, also postage to the amount of $30.00.

The meetings of the Council were held regularly, with open doors, any comrade was privileged to be present and witness the manner with which the business of the Department was conducted in the presentation of bills, and the scrutiny to which they were subjected, before the vouchers for the same were approved.

12-1908—G. A. R.

The Council most earnestly suggests that the "Detail of Disbursements" as reported by the Assistant Quartermaster General, as also the "Minutes of the Council of Administration" should be read by every comrade feeling assured that after this has been done, the verdict will be that we have been faithful to the trust committed to our care.

The rules that have governed the conduct of all business presented, were those that have been in practice for several years past, they have proven to me most effective in managing in a business like manner the affairs pertinent to the duties of the Council, to our successors we recommend a continuance of the same.

Fraternally submitted,

JONAS H. DETTRE,
Chairman.

Comrade Bengough, Post 157, moved that the Commander be directed to appoint a Committee on State Pension Legislation.

Comrade Eisenbrown, Post 115, moved to amend that all bills or resolutions on State Pensions be referred to such Committee without reading or debate.

Comrade Bengough accepted the amendment and as amended the motion was adopted.

On motion of Comrade Bengough all other resolutions were also referred to the Committee on Resolutions without reading or debate.

On motion of Past Commander Wagner the hour of 3:00 p. m. was fixed for the reception of Commander-in-Chief Burton, and Commander Powell appointed Past Commanders-in-Chief Wagner, Beath and Stewart as a committee to escort Commander-in-Chief Burton to the Encampment and introduce him to the delegates.

On motion the Encampment at 12:20 took a recess until 2:30 p. m.

Afternoon Session, Wednesday, June 3, 1908.

The Encampment was called to order by the Department Commander at 2:30 p. m.

Chaplain Sayers opened the meeting with prayer, as follows:

Almighty God, Our Father, we continue to invoke Thy blessing upon us. We pray that Thou wilt guide us in all our deliberations this afternoon, so that the best results may be accomplished for the good of our order. Keep us ever close to Thyself, and save us through Christ. Amen.

Department Commander: The first thing in order will be the announcement of the Committee on Pensions and Legislation, viz:

H. H. Bengough,	Post No. 157
W. H. Redheffer,	" 2
J. C. Kiskaddon,	" 105

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Department Chaplain.

Erie, June 3, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The committee to whom was referred the report of the Department Chaplain, beg leave to report as follows: That we not only commend the able and efficient manner in which the work of this sacred office has been performed, but also in view of our beloved present Chaplain's past 36 years of faithful service, we recommend his re-election for the ensuing year.

E. L. ALLEN, Post No. 207,

SAMUEL CROWTHER, Post No. 25,

JOHN W. FRAZIER, Post No. 18.

On motion the report was adopted as read.

The Officer of the Day announced that Charles G. Burton, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic was at the outpost.

By direction of the Department Commander, the Commander-in-Chief was escorted to the stage.

Department Commander: Comrades, I have the pleasure as well as the privilege this afternoon of introducing you to our Commander-in-Chief.

The Encampment then arose and saluted the Commander-in-Chief.

Department Commander: The next order of business is the naming of candidates for the office of Department Commander.

Comrade Payne, Post No. 139: It is one of the easiest duties that I was ever detailed to do, to come before this Encampment and to present to you for the office of Department Commander a comrade of Post No. 139, of Scranton, Comrade P. DeLacey. I said it was easy, comrades; why, it is just as easy as it is to take the top rail off the fence; it is just as easy as it is to pick the feathers' off a chicken after you have got the chicken; it is just as easy as it was to fall in for pay, and about as easy as it was for some fellow to skin you out of it. Why is it easy? Simply because I have a good man to present. If he was not known, if he was short in any respect, either in his record as a soldier or a citizen, I then would come before this Encampment with honey on my tongue, or else I would stand up and paw the air. Comrade DeLacey first saw the light of day in the same community where he now resides, and his life from that time to the present has been an open book, read of all men. There is nothing in his whole life to either conceal or explain away. While yet a young man, he kissed his wife and baby goodbye, and enlisted as a private, and marched to the front in that gallant regiment, the 143rd Pennsylvania. (Applause.) And from that time until the close of the war he was at the front continually; he was on the firing line whenever his regiment was, and at the close of his service he retired with the honors of three bullet wounds and a first lieutenant's commission. At the inception of the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, he was one of the first to affiliate with our organization, and from that day to this, covering a period of about 38 years, he has stood to the front in our organization. He has had all the honors bestowed upon him by his post; many honors have come to him from the Department and the National headquarters; he has visited the sick and afflicted; he has assisted to bury the dead; he has done everything that he could to promote and increase the building up of our organization; and in his whole record as a Grand Army man there is not a tarnish upon it anywhere. He also has a medal of honor, received for gallant service on the field of battle, and two years ago was elected president of the organization of the medal of honor men. For 38 years he has been president of his regimental organization, the 143rd Pennsylvania, and I expect he will be president of it as long as he lives—that is, at least, what the members of that regiment say.

As a citizen, Comrade DeLacey has shown himself a magnificent man; he has held many offices of both profit and trust, and he has sized up to the whole stature of everything that was required of him. In this age and day, when some men have not lived up to the ideals which American citizenship has placed upon all good men, there never has been a stain on his record in any official position which he has ever held. As a citizen, Comrade DeLacey has the respect and honor of every man in his community. He sizes up to the full stature of American citizenship. It is useless for me to detail his promotion from one post to another, from private to first lieutenant, but I want to say that he had no backing, and that every promotion that he received was but the recognition of merit, won at the front.

I am not going to stand here and dwell upon his merits as a candidate. Many of you know him. Many of you have met him at Encampment after Encampment. Many of you have met him on other occasions, and every man who becomes acquainted with Comrade DeLacey is his friend from that time on. Now what do you want? What do we look for in a candidate for the office of Department Commander. We want a man that will continue to carry the flag at the front as it has been carried by the Department Commanders who have preceded. The flag of Pennsylvania in the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, if it has not always been at the front, has been pretty near it. As a soldier we want a good one. In Comrade DeLacey we have it. As a Grand Army man you want a clean one, and in Comrade DeLacey you have it. As a citizen you want a man who is clean. I say to you, comrades, that Comrade DeLacey stands four-square to every wind that blows. He can look every citizen squarely in the face. He is open-hearted, brave, honest—a citizen that every one in our part of the state respects, and I ask you in all sincerity, do you want any more? If you do, all I have to say is that you will have to pass over on the other side of the river and look for him. (Applause.)

Comrade Fleming, Post No. 97, Wilkes-Barre: I do not want to take up the comrades' time in making a long address, but I want to say to you that after hearing the remarks of Commander Payne, of Post 139, there is little for me to say. I want to impress this upon your minds: if you want to inquire into a man's character; if you want to inquire into a man's standing in society; if you want to inquire into a man's fitness to fill a position, go to his neighbors and they will tell you who and what that man is. We of Post 97, Wilkes-Barre, know Comrade DeLacey to be a good man. We know him to be a true man, and we know him to be a model man, and we know him to be as full of patriotism as a nut is full of meat; and we as neighbors recommend him to you, and if you will elect him I am satisfied that you will make no mistake; and we recommend him to you as being a man that works diligently, lives creditably, and acts honorably by all men, that is Comrade DeLacey. Post 97, of Wilkes-Barre, seconds his nomination for the office of Department Commander. (Applause.)

Comrade Mansfield, Post No. 21: Commander and Comrades: I don't propose to afflict you with a speech. Post 21, by a rousing vote, endorsed one of her honored members for the high office of Department

Commander. I hold in my hand the endorsement of 58 delegates and commanders from the Philadelphia posts, asking you to send the Department Commandership to Philadelphia. I don't propose to stand and tell you that the comrade I shall mention is better than anybody else, but I do propose to tell you that he is the equal of any of them. His soldier record is a credit to him and all concerned. He has held legislative office in Philadelphia and has filled it creditably and honorably. His record as a G. A. R. man can be excelled by none. He has held high office in the Department of Pennsylvania, and there is no stain on his record, and as a citizen he is equal to any man within the sound of my voice. I have the honor and pleasure to name John L. Grim, of Post 21, Philadelphia. (Applause.)

Past Department Commander W. J. Patterson, Post No. 157; Commander and Comrades: I don't want to inflict any long address on you as to the merits of either of these candidates. I am here representing 26 Allegheny county posts whose delegates met ten days ago and authorized me, by unanimous vote, to second the nomination of Comrade DeLacey—26 posts, representing 65 representatives. These representatives, in taking the matter into consideration, did not look so much to the qualifications of the candidates as to the locality. We thought, in justice to Scranton, that we ought to represent their cause, and I am here in behalf of Allegheny county and the Grand Army men of that county to second the nomination of Comrade DeLacey. (Applause.)

Comrade Channell, Post No. 23: Commander and Comrades: I have never claimed any time of this state Department, but I am impressed with the thought that I have a duty to perform on this occasion, and I feel that no more important duty, no more responsible duty, can be imposed upon the delegates than the naming and endorsing of anyone for the high and honorable office of State Commander. Impressed with this thought, I am compelled to rise and say a word in behalf of one whose name has already been presented to you. I shall not speak of his courage. I shall not speak of his valor. I shall not speak of his honor. I shall not speak of his valor, lest I might appear to speak disparagingly of the valor of someone who is equally valorous. I shall not speak of his courage, because I might appear to disparage the courage of someone equally as courageous. I shall not speak of his honor, lest I might appear to disparage the honor of someone equally as honorable. And yet I claim that for courage, for honor, for fidelity, for integrity, he is the peer of any man in this Encampment.

There are several things that we should take into consideration. The man whom I shall name was a candidate a year ago at Easton, and in order to allay all feeling and to restore all harmony he courteously withdrew in favor of his opponent. It would seem to me that courtesy would call upon this State Commandery to endorse the name of John L. Grim—a man whose fidelity has never been questioned in whatever position he was placed a man whose integrity cannot be questioned, a man who stands as representative of his community wherever his lot is cast, a man who has always been true and faithful to the principles of this order, Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty; a man who has always stood, always will stand, for the rights of the soldier and the rights of the soldier's orphan and the soldier's widow. You have always found him, as you always will find him, ready for anything that appeals to their interests, and therefore I think he is the man to represent the delegates of this convention as our next State Commander. Now, I believe, conceding everything to Scranton, that Philadelphia should receive the honor of having our State Commander for the coming year. In the next year delegates from all parts of the State will be wanting to make a visit to Philadelphia, and I am sure if we elect Comrade Grim that the right hand of fellowship will be extended to every comrade whether from Pennsylvania or any other state. No one can question his ability. He has been through the State. He has been through many of the posts of the State. There is no one who can arouse more enthusiasm for the cause than Comrade Grim. If you elect Comrade Grim this afternoon you can return to your posts with the feeling that you have done for them the best that you could. Therefore, I appeal to the delegates of this convention: Let us act this afternoon in such a manner that we can take with us the consciousness that we have done our whole duty to ourselves and the order that we represent, and this we can do on this occasion by electing Comrade John L. Grim. (Applause.)

It was moved and seconded that the nominations for Department Commander close. Agreed to.

Past Commander Wagner: Commander and Comrades: By your special direction three o'clock was made the hour for a special item of business, and that time has now arrived. Three of your past Department Commanders, Comrades Beath, Stewart and myself were appointed a committee to arrange for this interesting part of the afternoon's business. We were appointed a committee to present to the Encampment and to introduce to you the head of the organization known as the Grand Army of the Republic—to introduce to you the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the one who leads us this year, and we follow because we know he leads us well. We have great pleasure in introducing to you Commander-in-Chief Charles G. Burton, who is here from the Department of Missouri to become more familiar with the Department of Pennsylvania and to have the pleasure of meeting the comrades of Pennsylvania. (Great Applause.)

Commander-in-Chief Burton: Department Commander and Comrades of the Department of Pennsylvania: I thank you for the wealth of your greeting, and in turn, not only for myself, but for the comrades of the 44 other departments. I bid fraternal greeting this beautiful afternoon in June. In the year that is passing, fortunately, but few questions of momentous import have arisen. Probably the one matter in which our Comrades were universally interested was the Widows' Pension Bill. In 1903, at the National Encampment at San Francisco, the National Encampment by unanimous vote instructed its Committee on Pensions to prepare for the consideration of Congress, and to urge their enactment into laws, a bill providing for a service pension for the comrades and an increased pension to the widows of those who had been mustered out. The National Encampment in 1904 and in 1905 repeated that declaration, as did also the Encampment of 1906; and a year ago so much of the Grand Army bill as related to service pensions became a law, known as the McCumber law, although it is almost in word and letter the Grand Army bill presented by our Pension Committee. I congratulate you that on the 19th of April the Widows' Pension Bill became the law of the land. It is not the law as drafted by our pension committee. It is in the nature of an amendment to the Act of June 27, 1890, but in substance and effect it is about the same as the Grand Army bill. It was introduced by Hon. Silas Silloway, and if I remember rightly unanimously passed the House. It went to the Senate and was referred to the Senate Committee on Pensions, of which Senator McCumber is chairman. At once it became manifest that there was a disagreement between the House committee and the Senate committee—between the House and the Senate—as to the Widows' Pension Bill. The bill as enacted by the House removed the income limit, but did not change the limit of marriage, leaving it as under the law of June 27, 1890, and virtually providing that the widow of every soldier who had served ninety days or more and who had been married to that soldier prior to the 27th of June, 1890, should receive a pension of $12.00 instead of $8.00 per month. In the meantime there was a disposition to amend the bill by bringing the limitation of marriage down to the time of the passage of the bill, which would cover all widows whose marriage occurred since June 27, 1890. I was informed that there was a possibility of a deadlock. On the 19th of February I visited the Department Encampment of the Potomac, and I requested General R. P. Brown, chairman of your pension committee, to meet me at that time. We two, in company with Past Commanders-in-Chief Burdette and King, called upon Mr. Silloway of the House, and Senator McCumber of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House. We four then went to meet the President, and the President said in substance that he had very pronounced opinions in regard to the Widows' Pension Bill; that he believed in limitation of income, though he would increase it over the act of 1900. He said he also had a very pronounced opinion in regard to the limitation of marriage, but he complimented the Grand Army of the Republic when he turned to Comrades Burdette, King, Brown and myself, and said: "You Grand Army men go and fix it up, whatever you want. Whatever you can get from Congress I, as President of the United States, will sign." (Applause.) We again visited the representatives of the two committees, and we said to them: "Gentlemen, under the bill as passed by the House 180,000 widows will get four dollars a month more than they are getting now—practically a dollar a week more. Under the proposed amendment offered by the Senate committee 20 additional thousand widows will come in. The Grand Army of the Republic does not feel that the 180,000 widows ought to lose their dollar a week while you, gentlemen, are quarreling whether you will let in the other 20,000 widows. Give us the House bill, and then by some future bill bring down the marriage limitation to the present time." They accepted our proposition, and I congratulate you, my comrades, and above all I congratulate the 180,000 widows of the boys that are sleeping in the camps of the silent, that from now on they will get $12.00 instead of $8.00 a month. (Applause.)

A question in which every comrade is interested is the National Encampment. The 42d National Encampment is to be held at Toledo, Ohio, up in the northwest corner, very close to the corner of Indiana and Michigan. It is centrally located. It is practically the center of that great area from which 80 per cent. of the boys in blue went out to battle for their country. Under ordinary conditions, being so centrally located, the 42nd National Encampment, in point of numbers and in enthusiasm, would probably be the greatest Encampment that we have held for 8 or 10 years, but underlying it all, of course, is the rate of transportation. On my return from Saratoga to my home in Missouri I stopped off at Toledo way back in October last, in connection with a member of the Executive Committee. We had meetings with the committee of 200 appointed by the Mayor of Toledo. The people of Toledo have been active, earnest and zealous; they have done, and are doing, everything possible to make the 42d Encampment a success in every sense of the word. Among other things they appointed a Committee on Transportation. On my way back I stopped at Chicago, and personally interviewed the Commissioner of the Central Passenger Association, in whose territory the city of Toledo is situated; also the Commissioner of the Western Passenger Association, which covers the states immediately west of the Central Association. At that time the Commissioner of the Central Passenger Association indulged in some extensive remarks concerning the railroad situation, and concerning what he called "hostile legislation." I did not discuss the matter with him, but told him that at the proper time we would present an application on behalf of the Grand Army of the Republic asking for the old rate of one cent a mile. Early in January I formulated a letter and mailed it to the Commissioners of the various Passenger Associations within the United States. The Transportation Committee on behalf of the city of Toledo backed me up. Not long ago I received a letter from the Commissioner of the Central Passenger Association giving the rate of one and one half fare.

Now, for the purpose of letting you comrades understand that Headquarters have done and are doing and will continue to do all that we can for a low rate, I shall take the liberty of reading to you a letter formulated and sent to the Commissioners of the three great passenger associations—the Central, the Western, and the Trunk Lines.

I received a prompt reply to this letter in which the Commissioners called my attention to the fact that but two of the states in the southeast has been affected by the so-called hostile legislation, while every state in the Central had been afflicted in that way, and that the matter would be laid before the association at their next meeting. I immediately forwarded a copy of this letter to the people of Toledo, and they sent up a delegation, and at the next meeting they extended the limit from September 15 to October 15, but refused to reduce the rate. We sincerely hope that our efforts, coupled with theirs, may result in the old rate of one cent per mile. If it does, we will have the greatest encampment we have had in years; if it does not, of course it will be limited. I know how much you are interested in what you have got to pay. Headquarters receive many communications on that subject from the comrades, and many of them are written with the idea that the Commander-in-Chief is neglectful in that respect, and for that reason I have given you some idea of what we have done in the matter of securing a low rate of transportation.

I do not know of any particular question to come before the National Encampment of peculiar interest. During the years that have come and gone we have adjusted pension matters, under the lead of Comrade Past Commander-in-Chief Beath. Investigation was had of the administration of the Pension Bureau by the then Pension Commissioner Evans, which resulted in a written report to the President and the appointment of a new Commissioner, and I congratulate my comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic that from that time to this pension matters have not taken ten minutes of the time of any National Encampment, and substantially no comrade has risen to kick against the pension laws. I say there are no great questions that now come up. If there are, we will meet them.

I am glad to be with you today. I was especially delighted to be able to be present and listen to your nominating speeches. They were decorous, parliamentary and eloquent. Recently I attended an encampment in what is sometimes called the "wild and wooly west," and one of the delegates said, in making a nomination: "Gentlemen, I shall not take up your time and attention in relating his specific qualifications. I simply want to say to you that he is as good as the best of us, and a damned sight better than all the rest of us." (Laughter.) Needless to say, he was elected by acclamation.

Comparatively speaking we are young men. The average age of the comrades of the old army of 1861 and 1865 was 19 years. The average age of the comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic is between 65 and 66, and yet, as I remarked some time ago, the comrade is substantially a young man, because, although a woman is as old as she looks, a comrade is as young as he feels. The Grand Army of the Republic is a voluntary association. It coerces no one. And yet, my comrades, when we take into consideration the objects and purposes for which we stand, when we contemplate what it has accomplished, when we reflect upon what it is, no comrade of the old army of 1861 and 1865 can give any reason, good, bad or indifferent, why he should not belong to the Grand Army of the Republic and remain there until death shall muster him out. (Applause.)

The comrade of the Grand Army ought to be and ordinarily is a good citizen. Of course, now and then there is some of us that stray from the straight and narrow path. Not long ago in the city of St. Louis, Judge Moore, of the criminal court, called up a person who had been convicted of the crime of burglary. The judge looked at him. He had some doubts in his mind whether the criminal was a professional or whether he had been induced to perpetrate the crime by reason of want and hunger. So he said to him: "I want to find out about you. If you are a professional criminal I think I will lock you up during the remainder of your life; if there are some mitigating circumstances, I desire to give you the benefit of them." "Now," he says, "this crime of burglarizing this house was a remarkable offense in all its details, and I can't understand how you could have burglarized that house all by yourself unless you are an expert criminal. Did you have any confederates with you?" He replied: "No, your Honor. The two fellows that got away were Grand Army fellows." (Laughter.) Nevertheless the comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic is and ought to be a citizen. He has been schooled in the school of patriotism. He became a volunteer soldier, and he again became a citizen, and in most instances he has lived up to the faith that was in him when he wore the uniform of blue. Being a good citizen, he is naturally a party man, because he knows that in a government of, for and by the people the individual citizen, no matter how intelligent or earnest he may be, can accomplish little or nothing, because he knows that those who think alike and believe alike as to administrative policy must act together, and therefore a comrade ordinarily is a party man, acting with the political party whose principles and whose policies, whose men and whose measures, in his honest judgment, are best calculated to promote and serve the public good. The comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, as I have had occasion to say at other times and places, is rather short on theology, but he is long on faith. The Chaplain once said to me: "Burton, why is it that so many of our comrades are not prominent in denominational work?" I said, "Chaplain, that is dead easy. When the Comrades of the Grand Army were boys, they used to read in McGuffey's old 5th Reader that the groves were God's worst enemies, and naturally the boys took to the woods." (Laughter.) And yet we had faith in the wisdom, the justice, the manhood, the courage, the convictions, and conscience of him whom the world calls, "The Martyred President," but whom the boys in blue lovingly call Father Abraham. We had faith in the military genius and wisdom of our Grant, Sheridan, Thomas, Meade, and others, who led us to victory and sometimes to defeat. We had faith in the boys with whom we touched elbows on the right and on the left. We had faith in ourselves, and, above all, we had faith in the justness of the cause for which we fought. We may not be able to agree among ourselves or with doctrinaires as to the inspiration of the scriptures. We may differ as to the nature and character of the great central light of Christianity, but the comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic lays the Bible upon the altar of his post-room and accepts its teachings, not only as the rule and guide of his faith but of his every conduct in life; and he goes to the sermon delivered upon the Mount to find therein the true criterion of human conduct: "Whosoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." And therefore I am justified in saying that the comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic is long on faith. He has met death on the battlefield, in the hospital tent, and the prison pen, and he knows that it is inevitable; but ordinarily he meets it with courage and without fear and trembling, like one "who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

The comrade is peculiar in some things. When he goes to church—and there are others besides Comrade Wagner who do that—he never sings, "I want to be an angel and with the angels stand," because he knows that his vital energies ought to be exercised to live as an American citizen. He expurgates from his hymn-book "This world is all a fleeting show for man's delusion given," because he does not believe that the Great Creator ever could or would delude his creatures, and he thinks this world is the best world he has any knowledge of, and I am satisfied that the average comrade would rather be an American citizen in the State of Pennsylvania and belong to his Grand Army post than to be a leader of the orchestra in the new Jerusalem.

Let us continue as in the past to stand for good citizenship; let us continue to stand for the home; let us continue to stand for the hearth-stone, the corner-stone of the Republic; let us continue to stand for the school house, the church, the cathedral; let us continue to stand for all things that uplift mankind; let us continue to stand for all things that make the stars and stripes the symbol of that righteousness which exalteth a nation. I thank you. (Great applause.)

Department Commander: We will now proceed with the nominations for Senior Vice Department Commander.

Comrade Houck, Post No. 16: Commander and Comrades: I rise to place in nomination for Senior Vice-Department Commander a man who has served his country well, a man who holds three honorable discharges, a man who is a good citizen. He is a man that carries a wound in his limb, and has carried it for 46 years, that will never close. I know he will make an able officer if you will elect him. A man who is 6 feet 7 inches in height. I nominate Mahlon Shaaber, of Reading Post No. 17. (Applause.)

14—1908—G. A. R.

At the request of a delegate Comrade Shaaber rose to his feet so that all might see him.

Comrade Gould, Post 67: Commander and Comrades of the Department of Pennsylvania: Post 67, by unanimous vote, has determined to place in nomination, and has instructed me to do so, for the position of Senior Vice Commander of this Department, Thomas H. Cole, who does not have to rise and stand to be known by the comrades of this Department. His services in the war began in April and ended at Apomattox. He fought through the entire war, and to repeat his record would be to repeat the history of the war, as far as he took part in it. In other words, there was not a battle in which his battery took part that he was not there performing his duty. I want to say one thing more, and that is that he has been honored by his citizens since he came out of the war, and he has been universally respected in every position he has held. He is loved and honored by the entire community in which he lives. I do not believe that the services of a man in the army, however good they may be, entitle him to be elected an officer of the Grand Army of the Republic. I do not believe that there is any exalted position in civil life that entitles him to it. I believe that no honor should be given to a man in the Grand Army of the Republic that does not earn it by his services to his comrades, and in bettering and advancing the interests of the Grand Army. Thomas H. Cole has for over forty years been laboring for the benefit of his comrades. He has been in the Northwestern Association, and has risen step by step until he has been commander of that organization; and no meeting of the Northwestern Association of the Grand Army of the Republic is complete if Thomas H. Cole is not present. He is ever ready and willing, and is known to the Department of Pennsylvania as an almost constant attendant at Encampments.

I want to say one thing more; and that is that when the department accepted the invitation to come to Erie, Post 67 appointed a committee on arrangements for this Encampment. Thomas H. Cole is chairman of that committee. The citizens of Erie met and appointed a citizens committee, and these two committees met and made Thomas H. Cole chairman of that committee; and if there is anything meritorious in this, if this Department feels that it is under obligations to the citizens and to the Post located here, it more than all belongs to Thomas H. Cole, because for nights and days, Sundays and all, in season and out of season, for long weeks he has given his entire time to make this Encampment a success, and I believe nothing could be done to so please the community here, to please the Grand Army men here, as to make Thomas H. Cole Senior Vice-Department Commander. (Applause.)

Comrade Cummins, Post No. 311: Commander and Comrades: The comrade who has just spoken of the merits of Thomas H. Cole has spoken from the standpoint of Erie city and its comrades. I wish to speak from a wider range. The northwest part of Pennsylvania is very much isolated from the rest of the state. From all this territory, containing some 12 or 15 counties, embracing a few years ago some seven or eight thousand comrades, there never has been a choice of senior vice-department commander, nor has there ever been made but once a choice of junior vice-commander of this department, and choice of department commander but twice. The membership of the Grand Army of the Republic has been well sustained throughout all this area of country, the district which furnished to the Union army the Buck-tail regiment. I want to say that first and foremost in all this section for 40 years I have known Comrade Cole as the leading spirit of the northwest territory. He has been twice in command of the Northwest Association, and has always been one of the most prominent and active members. He has taken care of us splendidly at this Encampment. He has worked for forty years in the interest of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was between four and five years in the army, always in the front. His active work in the Grand Army almost since the day of its formation, and all these other things that I have mentioned, appeal to you, as they appeal to me, for recognition. His ability is such that he will be of immense value to the Department as one of its administrative officers. Strong Vincent Post comes forward and asks that you grant this favor. I hope that you will do it. (Applause.)

It was moved and seconded that the nominations for Senior Vice-Commander be closed. Agreed to.

The Department Commander: The next thing in order is the nomination of candidates for Junior Vice-Department Commander.

Comrade Wooters, Post 7, Philadelphia: Commander and Comrades: I rise to place in nomination for the office of Junior Vice-Commander a man whose record as I go along will speak for itself. This comrade is not only a veteran, but the son of a veteran, and you might say a grand son of a veteran, for this comrade's grandfather fought in the war of 1812, his father was in the Union Army from 1861 to 1865, and this comrade shouldered a musket during the war of the rebellion in the 194th Pennsylvania Volunteers. He also has a son in the regular army. This comrade that I am about to name has been four times commander of his post. This record I think strong enough for any man. I nominate Comrade Wm. M. Heddens of Post 22, Danville. (Applause.)

Comrade Brown, Post No. 80: Commander and Comrades: I think this nomination belongs to our side. We have been coming here as delegates all through the state. I think one of the Department chairs belongs to us. I ask that the nomination for Junior Vice-Commander be given to us. I have a man that is well known, both as a soldier and a citizen. I nominate Andrew James of Post 80 for the office of Junior Vice-Department Commander. (Applause.)

Comrade Woodworth, Post 257: Commander and Comrades: These proceedings indicate that there is yet a spirit of rivalry existing in the men who compose the Grand Army of the Republic. It certainly is an indication that we are not those old fossils that some persons seem to imagine that we are, and we are still alive. Gentlemen, we all of us have our friends, but it will be well for the Department of Pennsylvania, in the selection of the minor department officers that we should with fidelity to the best interests of the organization endeavor to place in those minor offices persons who are qualified. I am here to second the nomination of Comrade Heddens of Danville, Pa. I have known him for a number of years. His is as strictly honest as it is possible for a man to be. He is zealous as a Grand Army man, and energetic in hunting up cases in the Grand Army of the Republic that call for the assistance of the members. He has lived in Danville for a number of years. His record as a soldier, I take it, is satisfactory to you, without regard to the length of service. It was of sufficient length and sufficiently honorable for him to be mustered into his post a number of years ago. He was commander of his post four years, and president of the Grand Army Association that meets in his district. If you elect him Junior Vice-Commander you not only honor him, you not only honor his post, but you do credit to yourselves. (Applause.)

Comrade Freeman, Post No. 80: Department Commander and Comrades: I rise to second the nomination of Comrade Andrew James. He is a man that is always prompt whether it is a call for duty or for action at any time; you have always found him at his post, and I feel assured if you elect him to the office of Junior Vice-Commander it will be a great honor to our post and to you. As long as we have been a post under the Department of Pennsylvania he has never acted as Junior Vice or any other Vice. So, comrades, if you will only let us have a little honor, we will always be grateful, and will do as we always have done—be obedient to orders and stand fast until we shall die and be buried and until we are mustered once more into the Grand Army above. (Applause.)

It was moved and seconded that the nominations for Junior Vice-Department Commander be closed. Agreed to.

Department Commander: The next in order will be nominations for Medical Director.

Comrade Holgate, Post No. 211: Commander and Comrades: It affords me great pleasure to present to the consideration of this convention the name of a member of the Grand Army of the Republic who has distinguished himself and honored the Department by service in this position. A man of fine attainments, a professional man of great ability; an honor to the community in which he lives, an honor to the Grand Army of the Republic; a man who has served the Department well; a man who has served his country well and served his people well. I take pleasure in presenting to this Encampment the name of Dr. A. M. Smith of Post 612. (Applause.)

Moved and seconded that the nominations for Medical Director close. Agreed to.

Moved and seconded that Comrade A. M. Smith be elected Medical Director by acclamation. Agreed to.

Department Commander: I therefore declare Comrade A. M. Smith elected Medical Director for the ensuing year.

Department Commander: The next thing in order is nominations for Department Chaplain.

Comrade Bengough, Post No. 157: Commander and Comrades: I am very proud of the manner in which our present Chaplain has performed his duty. In his report he simply recommends to this Encampment what we should do for the good of the order, and in order to follow out that recommendation I nominate Comrade Sayers for the office of Department Chaplain. (Applause.)

Moved and seconded that the nominations for Department Chaplain be closed. Agreed to.

Moved and seconded that Comrade Sayers be elected Department Chaplain by acclamation. Agreed to.

Department Commander: I therefore declare Comrade John W. Sayers elected Department Chaplain for the ensuing year.

Department Commander: The next thing in order is nominations for council of Administration.

It was moved and seconded that the nominations for Council of Administration be made by calling out the names without any speeches. Agreed to.

The following names were then announced, viz:

H. T. Stanwood, Post No. 334.

Theo. F. Turner, Post No. 31.

John Dougherty, Post No. 8.

Lemon Buch, Post No. 16.

William Briar, Post No. 167.

Michael Bucher, Post No. 99.

W. T. Bradbury, Post No. 162.

Department Commander: The next in order is the nominations for Delegates to the National Encampment.

Moved and seconded that there be a ballot box placed at the door, and that when we adjourn the comrades place the names of candidates in that box as they leave the hall. Agreed to.

Moved and seconded that the Encampment proceed to vote for Department Commander. Agreed to.

Ballots were then cast for Department Commander.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION.

Erie, June 3, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Dear Sir and Comrades: The undersigned committee, to whom was referred for consideration the Annual Report of the Council of Administration of the Department of Pennsylvania, respectfully report that they have attended to the duty committed to them, have examined the minutes of their meetings and the accounts of the expenditures ordered by them.

We find their business has been conducted in an exemplary and punctual manner, and for the welfare of the order.

We commend them to the good will and confidence of the members of the Department Encampment, and recommend a vote of thanks for duties faithfully and conscientiously performed.

S. W. HILL, Post No. 3,
GEO. J. SCHWARTZ, Post No. 46,
W. H. GERMAN, Post No. 16.
Committee.

On motion, duly seconded, the report and recommendations were adopted as read.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE JUDGE ADVOCATE'S REPORT.

Erie, June 3, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The committee to whom the report of the Judge Advocate has been referred, respectfully report: That while there was no necessity or occasion to render any opinion or give any decision upon questions during the past year, therefore your committee can neither comment upon or recommend any particular features of said report. Your committee is unanimous in testifying to his legal ability, his strong sense of justice and right, and his competency to discharge any and every duty that might have been imposed upon him, and his willingness to perform such duty.

F. D. BRICKER, Post No. 349,
E. P. GOULD, Post No. 67,
J. N. CALIFF, Post No. 68.

On motion, duly seconded, the report was adopted as read.

Past Commander-in-Chief Stewart: I move that we proceed to the selection of a place of the next Encampment. The motion was duly seconded and agreed to.

Comrade McMaster, Post No. 501: Commander and Comrades: I rise to move that the next Encampment meet at one of the most pleasant places in the State of Pennsylvania, having the largest inland body of water in the State; a beautiful place in every respect for the entertainment and enjoyment of the comrades of the Department and their friends, and a very fine place for this encampment to meet. In every respect I think it will be satisfactory, and there are there means of entertainment fully as large as there are in this city. The place I refer to is Exposition Park, Conneaut Lake.

Comrade Callendar, Post No. 139: I would like to have the comrade explain a little further where that place is.

Comrade McMaster, Post No. 501: The Adjutant has a letter which will explain, and I will ask him to read it.

Assistant Adjutant General Suydam then read the following:

Exposition Park, Pa., June 3, 1908.

To the G. A. R., Department of Pennsylvania, Erie, Pa.:

Gentlemen: We hope you will pardon this intrusion, but we are desirous of interesting your Honorable Body in next year's (1909) encampment at Conneaut Lake, Crawford county, Penna.

No doubt you are all aware that Conneaut Lake is the largest body of water in Pennsylvania, being $3\frac{1}{4}$ miles in length and from 1 to $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles in width. Its shores are dotted with private cottages and pleasure resorts, and it has 11 steamboats for the accommodation of pleasure seekers.

Its location is better than in any other part of the State for conventions, encampments or gatherings of any sort, being 122 miles north of Pittsburgh and 54 miles south of Erie, and reached by the Pennsylvania, the Erie and the B. and O. E. railroads, and the only place in the State to-day that enjoys special railroad rates and service. We also enjoy the service of one of the best suburban street railways in this State, to Meadville, a beautiful city of 17,000 inhabitants which is only 8 miles away.

Upon the western shores of Conneaut Lake is Exposition Park, which contains about 175 acres of land, and is the largest amusement park to-day in the State of Pennsylvania having all the amusements and attractions known to the amusement world. It has 15 hotels and restaurants, which afford accommodation for over 2,000 people. Our hotel accommodations are superior to any city in the State with a population of 75,000. These hotels vary in size for accommodations from 25 to 400, likewise the rates from $1.00 to $4.00 per day. Our camping equipment is practically unlimited, and should any of the several posts desire, we can put them under canvas by themselves on high rolling dry ground at a very small cost.

We herewith submit the following proposition for your consideration:

Furnish you all necessary music, such as brass bands and orchestras, large auditorium for your camp-fire, business meetings, etc., do all your advertising and such other expenses usually incurred at an encampment. We will furnish a bond for the fulfillment on our part of this proposition if so desired.

Trusting we may be favored in this undertaking, and have the pleasure of caring for your wants and conveniences at your next annual encampment, we beg to remain,

Yours very respectfully,

Conneaut Lake Co.,
H. O. HOLCOMB, President.

Comrade Johnson, Post No. 94: I nominate Gettysburg. We can get to Gettysburg for a very small amount—$4.00.

Comrade Brinton, Post No. 100: I nominate New Castle. There is one of the largest tin mills in the country there and another mill pretty near as large. It has large hotels, and good accommodations with the railroads, and Post 100 would like to have the boys come.

Comrade Mahon, Post 309: There is no one here to say whether Gettysburg is prepared to receive us or not. Comrade Ziegler is dead and Comrade Long is in ill health, and we should not vote for Gettysburg unless there is some person here to speak for Gettysburg.

Comrade Johnson, Post No. 94: I represent Gettysburg. I have as much right to represent Gettysburg as anybody else.

Comrade Paine, Post 139: Commander and Comrades: There has only one invitation come to this Encampment. Post 100 of New Castle comes before this Encampment and extends to us an invitation to go to New Castle. I do not believe that this Encampment is going to force itself upon any community, unless we have some reason to believe that they want us. We are not going to force ourselves upon any town or any city. If we should do that and then receive scant courtesy from the people of that community, we should get simply what we deserve and no more. If the people of Gettysburg had asked us to go there, there would be some sense in going there; and if there was was a post at Conneaut Lake an invitation to go there would have been worthy of some consideration. But here comes an invitation from the city of New Castle, which has always the ability to entertain. They have the hotel accommodations, they have the railroad accommodations, and there is some sense in their asking us to go. There is mighty little sense in the rest. New Castle may not be the location where we would like to go. We might prefer the eastern part of the state—the eastern or the central portion of the state. Really the central portion of the state was the proper place to go, and I was in hopes that the Harrisburg post—there are two of them—where there are ample hotel accommodations to take care of this encampment, would request that this encampment go to Harrisburg, but they are not here. According to the previous traditions of this Encampment we have not been in the habit of going to a town where we are not invited by a post. New Castle is the only one that has sized up to what we have been in the habit of doing.

Past Commander-in-Chief Stewart: To my mind this matter is not just in the position it ought to be to receive affirmative action by this Department. I don't know that we have ever been so much at sea for want of specific invitations. I have no doubt that there are some places in this State that would like to have the Department meet there. I have heard of one or two places that wanted the next Encampment, they have not been mentioned here today. I do not know whether they did not consider it worthy of any moment, or whether they were not earnest in their invitations, but it seems to me that the wise thing for us to do at this time is to refer the selection of the place of holding the next Department Encampment to the incoming Council of Administration, and then if we want to change this action for any reason before this Encampment adjourns we can do so. The incoming Council of Administration can see and determine where is the best place to go. They can let the competition be as active as possible and we will get the benefit of it. If we go to a place where we are not invited there are a lot of things that will fall to the Department officers that will make matters more difficult, but if we are invited to be their guests and they are to be our hosts, that changes matters.

In regard to Harrisburg: Harrisburg has been talking about the Encampment for some three or four weeks past, and talked with me as late as last week. I gave them some information. I understand now that Harrisburg has withdrawn.

I therefore move that the selection of a place for holding the next Department Encampment be left to the Incoming Council of Administration.

The motion was duly seconded and agreed to.

The Department Patriotic Instructor then read a supplemental report, which was by direction of the Department Commander referred to the original committee on the report of that officer.

Past Commander Wagner: Commander and Comrades: For the information of the comrades, and pending the report of the tellers on the vote for Department Commander, I have a few words to say. The Department of Pennsylvania has been very largely interested and largely instrumental in the successful collection of funds for the erection of the Stephenson Memorial. We are asking for no money now. We shall ask for no more money for that purpose. The contract has been made for the work and the memorial will be completed and placed for unveiling by August, 1909. The memorial is to be located in Washington, on the east side of Seventh street, just north of Pennsylvania avenue, at the junction of "C" street and Louisiana avenue. The Government pays $10,000 for the foundation and sub-structure, and the Grand Army of the Republic will pay $20,000 for the rest of the work. On the front will be heroic figures of a soldier and sailor supporting the flag, representing Fraternity, with a base relief of Dr. Stephenson. There will be a figure representing Charity on one side, and a figure representing Loyalty on the third side. We have $26,000 to pay the bills, and very nearly 25 per cent. of that money was collected within the limits of Pennsylvania. So you see we have done our share and more than our share, and I am sure, when the structure is complete and the memorial is in place unveiled, open to view for all generations, we shall feel proud of that which has been accomplished and in such a short time and so satisfactory a manner.

The sculptor is J. Massey Ryan. The model for Charity and the model for Loyalty, both are at the foundry, ready to be cast in bronze, and the front, which is the important feature, is now in course of preparation for the models. So far as I can see, so far as the experience of men who know about such matters goes, I feel that it is something that we shall admire and with which we shall be satisfied.

Having contributed so much money as the representatives of this Department have done, as the posts have done, I thought you would be interested to know how the work was progressing. If plans culminate as I think they should the National Encampment of 1909 should be held in the city of Washington. There will be invitations for the National Encampment from sundry places—Atlantic City, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Pittsburg—but I do think when this memorial is ready to be unveiled the National Encampment and the Grand Army of the Republic from all over ought to be there to participate in it and to see what has been accomplished in these three years work. (Applause.)

It was then moved by Past Department Commander Wagner and seconded that when the tellers submit their official report to the Department Commander he be authorized to give it to the members of the Encampment, and that a recess be taken until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Agreed to.

Erie, Pa., June 4, 1908.

The Encampment was called to order by the Department Commander at 9 a. m.

Department Chaplain Sayers: O, Thou, by Whom we come to God in prayer, the Life, the Truth, the Way, the path of prayer Thyself has trod, Lord, teach us how to pray. We come this morning grateful for Thy love for us in watching over us during the darkness of the night, in surrounding us and protecting us from all evil, and in permitting us to see the light of this new day, with which comes new responsibilities. Prepare us that we may go forward in the discharge of every duty; Thy blessing rest upon us during this Encampment. Do Thou grant, O Lord, that the spirit of harmony may prevail in everything that we do; let Thy blessing rest upon those who are sick, in sorrow and distress; they are with us in spirit, though absent in body, and we pray that Thy blessing may rest upon them. Grant, Almighty God, to guide us in all our deliberations, and when our life on earth is ended save us through Christ. Amen.

Department Commander: We are now ready to receive the reports of the committees on the reports of officers.

The Officer of the Day: Department Commander; I have the honor to report that a committee from the Woman's Relief Corps is at the door waiting to be received.

Department Commander: I will appoint as a committee to escort the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps to the stage, Past Department Commander Wilt, Comrade Wells and Comrade Dittes.

The committee so appointed escorted the committee of ladies from the Woman's Relief Corps to the platform, the Encampment saluting.

Department Commander: Comrades, I have the pleasure of presenting to you the committee from the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Abbie Lynch, Department Secretary: Commander and Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic: It certainly is a very great pleasure and honor to appear before you this morning. This is the first time that I have had the pleasure of coming before this body of men, and I appreciate it more than I can express. For 25 years the Woman's Relief Corps of the Department of Pennsylvania have endeavored to do the duties placed in their hands, and I have attended every convention of that Relief Corps from the first until the present time; and because we have finished and rounded out the work of a quarter of a century I have been appointed to come to you this morning and bring you the report of the past years work. We have only been an auxillary; we have tried to be your helper in the truest, highest sense of the word. How well we have succeeded, we leave for you to judge.

And now, Commander, I will read the report of the work that has been done in the last year.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

William T. Powell, Department Commander:

Dear Sir: It again becomes my duty to present to you and through you to the forty-second annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, a report of the work done by this Department for the year ending March 31, 1908.

SUSIE F. LOOMIS,
Department President.

ABBIE LYNCH,
Department Secretary.

Department Commander: I now have the pleasure of introducing to you Mrs. Maria L. Mumford, Past Department President.

Mrs. Mumford: Department Commander and members of the Grand Army of the Republic: It is a great pleasure to bring to you the greetings of the Woman's Relief Corps of the Department of Pennsylvania, and to assure you of our continued loyalty, good-will and support, (Applause.)

Department Commander: I have the pleasure of presenting to you Past Department President, Mrs. Alfretta M. Devine.

Mrs. Devine: Commander, and Members of the Grand Army of the Republic; I did not come to make any speech this morning. I thank you for your kind reception, and extend to you the hearty greetings of the Woman's Relief Corps. (Applause.)

Department Commander: Comrades, I have the pleasure of presenting to you, Mrs. Sarah S. Montier, the newly elected president of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Montier: Commander, and Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic: I also bring to you the greetings of the Woman's Relief Corps of the Department of Pennsylvania, and I pledge to you the loyalty and the fidelity of nearly four thousand women, and we hope in the future to be able to make as good a report of the work done for the Grand Army as the present ones have done. I thank you. (Applause.)

Department Commander: I will call upon Past Department Commander Stewart to say a few words to the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Past Commander Stewart: Department Commander, and Representatives of the Woman's Relief Corps: I shall reply to the very courteous greetings of the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and the report made by them—it is one of brevity—by expressing our appreciation of the magnificent work they have done, as one of the auxiliary organizations of the Grand Army of the Republic. We recognize their excellent and progressive work, covering a quarter of a century. The Woman's Relief Corps occupies a higher place today than at any time in its history, in the opinion of the public generally, and in the affections of the Grand Army of the Republic. (Applause.)

Department Commander: We are now ready to receive the reports of the committees on reports of officers.

Comrade Bengough presented and read the report of the committee on Pension Legislation.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The committee, to whom was referred the several Pension Bills presented for the consideration of this Encampment, have given the subject matter careful consideration, and would fraternally report.

The bills presented differ so widely in construction and application, that your committee join in recommending that the entire subject, with the bills presented, be referred to a committee of seven, to be appointed by the incoming Commander, with direction and fully empowered to formulate a pension bill and present the same to the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the next regular

Report of the Committee on the address of the Department Commander, and the reports of the Senior, and Junior Vice Department Commanders.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The undersigned committee, to whom was referred the address of the Department Commander, and the reports of the Senior and Junior Vice Department Commanders, beg leave to report that we have carefully read the several reports of these Department officers, and find much in them to commend. The address of the Department Commander gives a full and comprehensive review of the condition of the Department at the close of his term. Comrade W. T. Powell has proved himself painstaking and efficient in the discharge of all his duties as Commander of this Department. He has carried our banner with dignity and honor to the Grand Army of the Republic. His administration has been marked by ability and thoroughness not excelled by any of his distinguished predecessors in that office.

We also commend the earnest work and faithful services of the Senior Vice Commander, Oliver A. Parsons, and Junior Vice Department Commander, A. S. Moyer, for their zealous labors in promoting the best interests of the Department.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, that the incoming Department Commander appoint a committee to prepare and present to the retiring Department Commander, Comrade Wm. T. Powell, a suitable testimonial in recognition of his valuable services to the Grand Army of the Republic.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Patriotic Instructor.

Comrade McKee, Post No. 259, presented and read the report of the committee on the report of the Department Patriotic Instructor.

Erie, June 3, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: Your Committee upon the report of the Patriotic Instructor beg leave to submit its approval of the report as published, and that his recommendations be carried out by the Department, also that his supplemented report "appended," which is of interest to all the comrades, be published as part of this Encampment proceedings.

Comrade Wells, Post No. 11, presented and read the report of the committee on the report of the Adjutant General.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

William T. Powell, Department Commander:

Dear Sir and Comrade: Your Committee, appointed to consider and report upon the Report of the Assistant Adjutant General, beg leave to submit the following:

We have carefully gone over the subject matter and find the report well prepared, and the work of his office accurately presented.

Your Committee further desire to commend the faithful, painstaking, and meritorious work of the Assistant Adjutant General, Charles A. Suydam, during the year now closing, not only in routine work of the office, but especially in the multifarious labors performed by him in keeping up the high standard of the affairs of the Department, which depend so largely upon him for their efficiency.

A prompt, active, energetic Assistant Adjutant General, courteous and attentive to the membership of the Department in his association with them, is of great importance, and your Committee feel they would be derelict in their duty did they not accord these important qualifications to your Assistant Adjutant General, whose faithful work merits our fullest approval.

Department Commander: I will appoint Medical Director Smith and Comrades Holcomb and Thos. G. Jones a committee to escort the Ladies of the G. A. R. to the stage.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Assistant Quartermaster General.

Erie, Pa., June 3, 1908.

William T. Powell, Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic:

Comrade: Your Committee on the report of the Assistant Quartermaster General, would respectfully submit the following report:

We find upon the examination of the report of the Assistant Quartermaster General, that his execution of the duties of the office during his term, have been most commendable. Having in mind throughout the year of his occupancy of the position, the decreased membership, and the natural decrease in the revenues of the Department, he has exercised the strictest economy, and his administration has been one of the most economical in the records of the Department. We find his report as published and distributed to this Encampment, is correct, with the exception of an error of subtraction which appears therein, and by this error shows that the total expenditures were $5,510.33, whereas the recorded expenditures of the Assistant Quartermaster General show that the net expenditures were $4,510.33, which will readily be seen by an examination of pages 75 and 85 in the Roll of this Department. There is also an omission on page 85 in the last line of the itemized account, of the sum of 50 cents on page 85. This amount is entered in his list of expenditures on page 75; this shows a total net expenditure of $4,510.33.

We congratulate you, sir, on the selection of such an efficient, capable and economical Assistant Quartermaster General during your term, and also congratulate Com-

JENNIE HAYS,
Department President, Ladies of the G. A. R.

rade C. F. Gramlich, the efficient Quartermaster General for his faithful execution of the duties of his office.

Committee.

Moved and seconded that the report be adopted as read. Agreed to.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. were then escorted to the stage by the committee, the Encampment saluting.

Department Commander: Comrades, I have the pleasure of introducing to you the committee of ladies representing the Ladies of the G. A. R.

I have the honor to present to you Mrs. Julia P. Shade, Past National President of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Mrs. Shade: Officers and Comrades of this noble order: I have the pleasure of coming before you this morning to bring to you the greetings of the mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, and granddaughters of you noble men. To you we are indebted for this grand honor that we can say we are the Ladies of the G. A. R. From each and every one of our convention members I bring to you greetings and best wishes, and we feel that there is no organization in this world that has the honor that we have—in saying that we are the Ladies of the G. A. R.

It would be useless for me to stand here and go over a long speech to you. You know as well as I do that I am the widow of one of your comrades who served three long years, and 17 months in Andersonville prison. Today we stand ready to help the Grand Army of the Republic and those dependent upon its members and whenever you ask for our assistance it is our pleasure to say "Yes, we obey." We wish you God speed, and we hope and pray that God will bless each and every one of you. We cannot expect reward on this earth, but we feel sure that all your good works will be rewarded above." (Applause.)

Department Commander: I have the pleasure of presenting Mrs. Elmira Scritchfield, of Pittsburg, Past Department President.

Mrs. Scritchfield: Commander, Officers and Comrades: I assure you it is a great pleasure for me to come here this morning. I will give you a brief outline of what the Ladies of the G. A. R. have done this last year, and since their organization.

REPORT OF THE LADIES OF THE G. A. R.

Erie, Pa., June 4, 1908.

Department Commander, William T. Powell:

I present to you, and through you to the Forty-second Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, a report of the work done by our Department for the year ending March 31, 1908.

Expended for relief in cash,	$5,459 15
Relief other than money, estimated,	733 66

Turned over to Posts and Soldiers' Orphan Schools,	$8,192 81
To Homes at Hawkins' Station and Veteran and Wife's Home, Philadel- phia,	1,026 51
Amount of relief expended since organization,	1,919 33
Amount turned over to Posts since organization,	39,744 80
Amount turned over to Posts since organization,	27,117 86

With best wishes for the continued success of your beloved order. I remain,

Very truly yours,

MARY H. HOWARD,
Deputy Secretary.

Department Commander Powell: I now have the pleasure of introducing Mrs. Catherine DeLacey Roche, Past Department President, and daughter of the Department Commander elect.

Department Commander and Comrades: You embarrass me, Department Commander, by your introduction. I feel so proud this morning anyhow, and I realize so well the honor and the honored position I am in, being the daughter of the commander elect, but I am not going to take up your time making a speech. At the request of Mrs. Julia P. Shade, President of the Home at Philadelphia, I will give you a short synopsis of their financial standing.

The indebtedness last year was $27,000. Collected by Mrs. Shade, President, last year, $1,000; this year, $3,000. Reducing our indebtedness to $23,000 which we hope to greatly reduce this year. We can accommodate about 100 persons in our Home.

Nine of our home family have passed away since last Memorial Day.

This is a very brief synopsis of the work carried on. I thank you very much for your kind reception, and will not take up your time any longer. (Applause.)

Department Commander: I will ask the Chaplain to say a few words to the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Chaplain Sayers: Department Commander and Ladies of the G. A. R.: As some of you know, I am acquainted with your work by being brought into personal contact with it and seeing it from week to week, and I assure you that the Grand Army of the Republic appreciates the work that you are doing. You have been a great help and a great blessing to the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic and to their wives, and I hope and pray that God may spare your lives long to continue this work. (Applause.)

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Chief of Staff.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: Your Committee, to whom was referred the Report of the Chief of Staff, present the following: That we commend Comrade W. H. H. Lea for enthusiasm, faithfulness, intelligence, discretion and devotion manifested in his office, and the great energy in the interests of our order, and hereby express the gratitude of this Department to him.

So far as the recommendation is concerned of action of changing the time of nomination, election and installation of officers in Posts, it is a matter for action by the National Encampment, and we report it with a negative recommendation.

Fraternally submitted,

C. R. LANTZ, Post No. 42,

PORTER PHIPPS, Post No. 3,

THOMAS F. SINEX, Post No. 61.

It was moved and seconded that the report be adopted. Agreed to.

Past Department Commander Beath read the following Resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the sum of three hundred dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the expenses of the committee to be appointed on State Pensions Legislation; the vouchers for such expenses, endorsed by the chairman of the committee, to be submitted to the Council of Administration for approval and then filed with the Assistant Quartermaster General, and a statement thereof to be incorporated in his report to the next Encampment.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Medical Director.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: We, the committee to whom was referred the report of Medical Director, beg leave to submit:

That we have considered his report, and find it to cover all the requirements, and we emphasize the suggestion that Adjutants of Posts give more careful attention to the reporting of deaths of the members.

Respectfully submitted,

R. C. McMASTER, Post No. 501,

W. B. KROESEN, Post No. 38,

WILLIAM STILES, Post No. 8.

Moved and seconded that the report be adopted. Agreed to.

Department Commander: I understand that the tellers on the election of Department Commander are ready to report. If so, we will now receive their report.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

William T. Powell, Department Commander:

Comrade: The election board appointed by you to count the vote for Department Commander, report that there were 384 votes cast, of which Comrade P. DeLacey, Post No. 139, received 251 votes. Comrade John L. Grim, Post No. 21, received 133 votes.

Fraternally submitted,

MARSHALL PRESTON, Post No. 139,

JAMES A. FLEMING, Post No. 97,

CLARK MANSFIELD, Post No. 21.

Department Commander: Comrade DeLacey having received a majority of the votes cast I declare him elected Department Commander for the ensuing term.

15-1908-G. A. R.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

To the 42d Annual Encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

The committee on Resolutions, respectfully reports that the following resolutions were submitted to it for consideration and action.

We have carefully considered the same and make the recommendation annexed to each of them.

No. 1.

"Resolved by the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, that the innovation first introduced at the meeting of the National Encampment at Saratoga in 1907, and continued the present year at Toledo, whereby the National Hotel Association, requires contracts for quarters to be made for four days instead of three days as heretofore, is an imposition upon the comrades desiring to attend the National Encampment and should be condemned.

Resolved, That we recommend that the authorities of the Grand Army of the Republic, having in charge the selection of the place of holding the next National Encampment (1909), demand that the minimum number of days to be contracted for, be three days according to the agreement made by the National Hotel Association in 1899."

(Signed),

J. R. DODDS,
GEO. O. ELLIS, Post No. 220,
N. P. KINSLEY.

Recommendation of above resolution is approved, and the same is referred to the appropriate committee for action in the premises.

No. 2.

"Resolved, That the action of the National Encampment, meeting at Saratoga, making provision for the establishment of a Permanent Invested Fund, and for the election of Trustees in charge of the same, should be made part of the Rules and Regulations by amendment thereto, and we so recommend and request the representatives to the National Encampment to vote for the same."

This resolution was presented by Past Commander-in-Chief Beath. Your committee recommends that the same be approved by this Encampment, and referred to the National Encampment for final action.

No. 3

Resolved, That the thanks of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, be extended to the Senators and Members of Congress who, by their influence, defeated the proposition to abolish the Pension Agencies as now located throughout the country. These agencies were established, not only for the payment, but also for the convenience of the veterans, their widows and orphans, and the consolidation of these agencies at Washington would, in our opinion, result in real hardship to the pensioners. Hence, the Grand Army of the Republic of Pennsylvania tenders the thanks and gratitude of every pensioner in this department to those members of Congress whose votes defeated the scheme of consolidation of the agencies.

Approved as presented and recommended that the same be presented to the 42d National Encampment.

No. 4.

"Whereas, During the past few years, Memorial Day has become a day given up largely to outings, athletics, exhibitions and other entertainments, not suitable to the proper observance of the day,

"Therefore be it resolved, That McLean Post No. 16, Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R., suggests that the Department Encampment take the necessary steps to secure such legislation at the coming session of the State Legislature, as will insure the proper observance of the day hereafter."

This resolution is reported affirmatively with a recommendation that it be referred to the incoming Department Commander for action.

No. 5.

At a meeting of the Department of Maryland Grand Army of the Republic, held May 9, 1908, the following action was taken:

Whereas, It has been the practice heretofore of the various Trunk Line Railroads to grant a rate of one cent a mile for the round trip to the place of meeting of the National Encampment, and

Whereas, It has come to our knowledge that the rate from Baltimore to Toledo, where the Forty-second Annual Encampment will be held, has been fixed at $19.75 for the round trip, which is one fare and a half, good only to the 15th of September, therefore:

Resolved: That it is the sense of the Department of Maryland that the rate named is excessive and will deter many of our comrades from attending the Encampment;

Resolved, That the Department Commander be requested to communicate with the Commander-in-Chief, protesting against this action of the railroads and to take council with his executive committee of the Council of Administration with the view of taking action looking to the change of the place of meeting and inviting the delegates only to assemble for the transaction of such business as may properly come before them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Comrade Frank M. Sterrett, Executive Director of the Committee on Arrangements of the Forty-second Annual Encampment, Toledo, Ohio, and to all Departments covered by the C. and P. and Eastern Passenger Association, so that action by said Departments can be taken at once.

Your committee recommends that this resolution be negated, for the reason that the Commander-in-Chief has already acted in the premises and has so reported.

No. 6.

Whereas, The National Congress of the United States during the month of April, 1908, passed a widow's pension bill, approved by the President of the United States on the 19th day of April, A. D. 1908, the second section of which reads as follows:

"That if any officer or enlisted man who served ninety days or more in the Army or Navy of the United States during the late civil war and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, has died, or shall hereafter die, leaving a widow, such widow, shall upon proof of her husband's death, without proving death to be the result of his army or navy service, be placed on the pension roll from date of the filing of her application therefor under this Act at the rate of twelve dollars per month during her widowhood, provided that said widow shall have married said soldier or sailor prior to June twenty-seven, eighteen hundred and ninety; and the benefits of this section shall include those widows whose husbands if living would have a pensionable status under the joint resolutions of February fifteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, July first, nineteen hundred and two and June twenty-eight, nineteen hundred and six."

For that Whereas, We deem it, that the clause in said section 2, of said Act which makes an iniquitous distinction, viz: "provided that said widow shall have married said soldier prior to June twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and ninety," between the widows of our comrades whose marriage took place after the date stated, is unjust, unfair and uncharitable, depriving many widows whose husbands have, or will hereafter die, from a pension, who during the life time of their spouse, have, and will hereafter have been a faithful helpmate, devoted wife, and aiding to support her invalid husband during a long life until his death.

Therefore be it Resolved, That we in encampment assembled duly protest against said clause being retained, in said section two of said Act, and herewith, do ask that this resolution be placed before the next National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and to urge it, to use its utmost efforts to use their influence during the next National Congress, which meets in the city of Washington, to have said section second of said Act, amended as follows:

Sec. 2. That if any officer or enlisted man who served ninety days or more in the Army or Navy of the United States, during the late civil war, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom has died or who shall hereafter die, leaving a widow, shall upon due proof of her husband's death, without proving his death to be the result of his army service, be placed on the pension roll from the date of the filing of her application therefor under this Act, at the rate of twelve dollars per month during her widowhood, provided that said widow shall have married said soldier or sailor prior to the passage of this Act, and the benefit of this section shall include those widows whose husbands if living would have a pensionable status under the joint resolution of February fifteen, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, July first, nineteen hundred and two, and June twenty-eight, nineteen hundred and six.

Be it further resolved, That the members of the next National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, be requested to confer with their respective army posts, to make it their labor to confer with the Senators and Representatives of their respective localities, in order that a united act be had in furtherance of these resolutions.

Recommended that this preamble and resolution be referred to the National Pension Committee for consideration and action.

No. 7.

Whereas, The Siege of Petersburg between the Army of the Potomac and Lee's Army of Northern Virginia was one of the most fierce, prolonged, unprecedented and sanguinary known to modern history in which the valor of men was put to the severest test, a siege covering ten fateful months, in which there was a death struggle for supremacy, and in which American blood was most copiously shed.

Whereas, The results of the Siege of Petersburg led quickly to the surrender at Appomattox and in the success of the Union Arms.

Therefore be it resolved, That this Department Encampment strongly urges upon Congress the proposed legislation for the establishment of a Battlefield Park, covering the territory about Petersburg, Va., upon which was fought the battles during the Siege of Petersburg, for the purpose of commemorating the sacrifices there made as well as to mark the place where the great contest was made the results of which led to peace between the States of the Union and the perpetuity of the American Republic.

The committee recommends that this entire subject be referred to the 42d National Encampment for consideration and action.

No. 8.

Resolved, That Courtland Saunders Post No. 21 request the next Forty-second Annual Encampment to restore to Clark D. Mansfield his right and title as Past Post Commander, having lost the same by reason of having been dropped from the Post from causes which he could not prevent, and he is now a member of Post No. 21.

ROBERT HALL,
Adjutant.

Signed,

W. H. DAVENPORT,
Post Commander.

Under the authority of Chapter III, Article II, section 1 of the Rules and Regulations, "Departments, at their discretion, are authorized to restore honors lost by Past Post Commanders."

We therefore recommend that the request contained in this resolution be granted.

Your committee reports the following additional resolutions and recommends that the same be adopted as read.

Resolved, That this Encampment extends to the officials of the city of Erie, to its Chamber of Commerce, to its Churches and clubs, to the company of the National Guard here located and to all of its citizens generally, the heart felt thanks of each and every member of the Forty-second Encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania, for their uniform kindness and courteous consideration, of the wants, needs and comfort of the "Boys in Blue" here assembled, as well as for the ample provision made to secure these objects, and particularly for the gracious manner in which these offices have been performed.

Resolved, That in the magnificent example of the practice of the principles of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty, furnished by the words, acts and deeds of the members of Strong Vincent Post No. 87, here located, we recognize an object lesson, worthy of emulation by all Grand Army Organizations wherever located, and for this example we fraternally thank this Post and its members.

Resolved, That in recognition of the splendid results, administrative, financial and fraternal, achieved through and by the continuous service of the outgoing officers of the Department of Pennsylvania, a vote of thanks is hereby extended to each and every one of them, for duties well performed, words well spoken and fraternity well exemplified. In this connection, especially do we desire to emphasize our high appreciation of the untiring, unflinching and courteous service of the Assistant Adjutant General of this Department.

For many years, in various capacities, his service has been invaluable, his courtesy under trying conditions unquestioned and his good fellowship a landmark in the entire Department. Let us therefore give him a "rose of recognition" while he yet remains with us, rather than a "stone in memoriam after he has left us."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion the report of the committee on resolutions with their recommendations relative thereto were adopted unanimously.

Report of the Committee on the Report of the Department Inspector.

Chas. A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The Committee to whom was referred the report of William H. Green, Department Inspector, respectfully report that we have carefully reviewed his report, and we are heartily pleased with the good work which has been accomplished during the past year.

We commend the manner in which he has conducted his Department, and recommend that his report be approved.

Fraternally yours,

Past Department Commander Stewart: Commander and Comrades: In the absence of any other immediate pressing business I want to ask the privilege of taking up the Encampment's time for a very few minutes. The duty has been assigned to me of presenting a badge. I want to recall an incident that happened in a post some 20 years ago. At that time I had the honor of serving as Assistant Adjutant General, and we concluded that it would be a wise thing to go about among the posts and exemplify the unwritten work. We visited one post that seemed quite derelict in the ritual and the performance of the unwritten work, and after we exemplified the muster-in ceremony, I asked the commander of that particular post if they gave a Grand Army badge to each recruit, and used the address in the presentation of the badge. Upon his replying in the negative, I said "If you will just delegate one of your comrades to act as a recruit I shall be glad to go through the ceremony." A comrade was delegated to act, and I occupied the station of commander in the ceremony. After we had gone through the preliminaries, the quartermaster had no badge present. I went to the commander and borrowed his badge. The recruit I mustered in that night had served in the United States Navy during the entire war. He was a little Irishman, about 5 feet 3 inches tall. He seemed very much interested, so as I passed in front of the altar I went to the post commander and took off his badge, brought it back and laid it on the Bible, and passed around on the other side of the altar. The Irishman being so short, I thought I would emphasize things by making myself as tall as possible, so I stretched myself out and looked into his eye. After I pinned the badge to his breast he rubbed it with his hands, and I looked at him very sternly, trying to make it as impressive as I could. I said, impressively, "My comrade, wear it over your heart, so patriotic, so gallant and so brave." He says, "By God, you show me the man to take it off." (Laughter.)

I merely relate that incident to show that the decoration of the Grand Army of the Republic when pinned upon the breast of a man means much and is always appreciated.

I have been delegated this morning, Commander Powell, in recognition of your faithful, conscientious, fraternal, sincere work, thoroughly appreciated throughout the Department by all the comrades, and resulting in this splendid Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic—I am delegated by those of your staff and some of your friends throughout the Department, and I might say more have desired to get in on this little gift, but it was too late, to present you with this evidence of their regard. It is the badge of a Past Department Commander, made of gold and set with diamonds and precious stones. It tells the story of years of service in the early sixties; it contains the corps badge which shone out on the crown of your cap; it has the laurel wreath of victory; it shows the rank held by you and given you by the comrades; and all is surmounted by the coat of arms of this imperial commonwealth, indicating whose soldiers you were. It is forty years and more since you wore that corps badge in the active service of your country. Those forty years have been years of unselfish labor performed in the interest of this magnificent organization, and the uplifting of the citizens of this great state. Whatever honors may come to you, whatever decorations may find their way to your breast, I know, and the comrades who gave you this badge know, none will have greater and grander memories than the badge of the Grand

Army of the Republic, and we trust that this may be a reminder of the year in which you held the station of Department Commander, and that all of the years which Providence may vouchsafe you, may be years of prosperity, contentment, happiness and peace. (Applause.)

Department Commander Powell: Past Commander Stewart and Comrades: This is one time in my experience as Department Commander when I yearn for twenty minutes, if possible, to express my feelings, but time will not permit, and I don't think that I could find words to express to you my feelings and how thankful I am for this beautiful remembrance. First I desire to thank Comrade Stewart for his kind words. You know, as we go along through life we have very many pleasant experiences, and there is nothing that is more pleasant, more vivifying, than the kind words that come to us from time to time to encourage us in our journey through life, and to make us look forward with more zeal and enthusiasm to the work that is before us.

I desire to thank the members of my staff and aides, and my comrades of the posts—and when I say these words, comrades, those of you who know me know that they are not idle words, but that they come from my heart—and to say to my aides and staff and the comrades of my post, and the other comrades, that I thank you with all my heart. I shall wear this badge, and I trust that God will grant that the hour will never come when I shall do anything that will bring reproach either upon the gift you have presented me, upon the Grand Army of the Republic, or upon myself as a citizen of this great United States. There are so many things in my heart and mind that I would like to say at this time that I cannot find words to express them. I will simply close by saying to you, with all the earnestness of my heart, that I thank you. I thank you, and shall ever remember, not only the occasion, not only the thoughts and actions in the presentation of this beautiful badge, but I shall ever be mindful of my pleasant associations during this past year. I cannot express, if I would, how, on all occasions and under all circumstances, without an exception, the comrades have extended to me in the various localities throughout this Department, not only the hearty grasp of the hand, not only the evidence of their welcome in their eyes, but they have used their feet and their arms and their voices and their talents to help me keep this Department where it stands today; and for these things, to all the comrades throughout the jurisdiction, and especially to the donors of this beautiful gift, I extend my thanks with all my heart. (Applause.)

Comrade Bengough, Post 157: Department Commander and Comrades: The committee appointed to visit the ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic desire to report that they have attended to that duty. We were cordially received by the ladies, thanked for the visit, and directed to return their expression of kindly feeling toward the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The committee appointed to visit the Woman's Relief Corps presented the following report:

Report of Committee to Convey Greetings to the Woman's Relief Corps.

Chas. A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The Committee appointed to visit the "Womans Relief Corps" report that they attended to that most pleasant duty, our reception was most cordial, they expressed their appreciation of the courtesy extended, with the assurance that they could be called upon at any time as the auxiliary helpers of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Yours in F., C. and L.,
 IGNATZ GRESSER, Post No. 87,
 ISAAC COLEMAN, Post No. 114,
 J. L. ADAMS, Post No. 141,
 Committee.

It was moved and seconded that the Encampment proceed immediately to install the officers already elected or appointed. Agreed to.

Department Commander: I will turn the gavel over to Past Department Commander Wagner.

Past Department Commander Wagner: Comrades, we are now prepared to install the newly elected officers. The Assistant Adjutant General will please announce them.

Assistant Adjutant General Suydam announced:

Department Commander, P. DeLacy, Post No. 139.
 Medical Director, Albert M. Smith, M. D., Post No. 612.
 Department Chaplain, Rev. John W. Sayers, D. D., Post No. 16.

Past Department Commander Wagner: Commander elect: Are you prepared to announce your staff?

Commander-elect DeLacey: I am. They are as follows:
 Assistant Adjutant General, Charles A. Suydam, Post No. 2.
 Assistant Quartermaster General, C. F. Gramlich, Post No. 7.
 Department Inspector, William J. Wells, Post No. 11.
 Judge Advocate, P. H. Campbell, Post No. 97.
 Chief Mustering Officer, B. J. Coll, Post No. 157.
 Patriotic Instructor, Charles O. Smith, Post No. 259.
 Chief of Staff, S. M. Callender, Post No. 139.

Past Department Commander Wagner: Comrades, you and each of you have by long service in the Grand Army of the Republic become familiar with the duties and responsibilities of the office to which you are appointed, and therefore it would be a work of supererogation to detail them to you. Are you prepared to take the obligation of your office?

The obligation of their respective offices was then administered to the foregoing officers, except Department Commander, by the installing officer, Past Department Commander Wagner. Installing Officer: Comrade DeLacey: It is a satisfaction to reach that part of the business of the Encampment which requires the installing of officers; it shows that the business for which we have assembled has been transacted, and the duties resting upon us have been satisfactorily discharged. It is a satisfaction to me—how could it be otherwise—to know that a comrade of experience and a comrade of judgment, a comrade whom we all love, has been elected as Department Commander. Is it not always so? But we are particularly glad to know that you have been selected for this high office.

The obligation was then administered to Department Commander-elect DeLacey.

The Installing Officer: Comrade DeLacey: As an emblem or evidence of your office I pin upon your breast the badge of Department Commander. You will wear this during the year whenever you are called upon to represent the Department of Pennsylvania in your official capacity, and at the expiration of your term of office you will turn it over to your successor. I also hand you the gavel, the emblem of your authority. You are so well versed in all matters relating to the business of the Grand Army of the Republic that it is not necessary for me to explain the virtue in that gavel—I only suggest to you that it will make them sit down if you use it judiciously, but there is no trouble about that in the Department of Pennsylvania.

I congratulate you upon your installation to office, and at the proper time you will assume your official duties.

Department Commander-elect DeLacey: Commander and Comrades: I can assure you that, owing to my physical condition since I arrived in Erie, I have not been able to prepare a speech. I am going to be very brief for I know that you are all anxious to get to your hotels and anxious that the business of the Department for this term should close, but I do want to congratulate you upon the very beautiful demonstration that was made here in the city of Erie, and the magnificent parade of the comrades of this Department. This does not always insure a successful meeting, but notwithstanding the great distance, you have come in force, and I must congratulate you upon your appearance, and more than that I must congratulate all that you look so much better than when I saw you last. You have conferred upon me such an honor that I don't know how to say or convey my thanks. It is a position that I never had any ambition to seek. In fact, I presume that my friends throughout the state are the cause of my being your commander. It is not due to any great amount of energy on my part, but my friends went into this matter and forced me into it, and they have demonstrated their power by ordering me into line. We always love the man who obeys orders, and in obedience to orders I have come here this morning and assumed the obligation, which I shall obey to the best of my ability, and I want to say to you that all the energy and whatever judgment or good sense I may have, I will exercise entirely in the interest of the Grand Army of the Republic of the Department of Pennsylvania, and I want to say to you further that, in all questions or matters concerning the Grand Army that may arise during my administration, you will find your Commander on the firing line.

We have reached a period in our lives when we think that all the energy that is in the officer or Commander should be exercised in order to keep the comrades in line. In many of the great organizations of the country, when they get a certain age, they become indifferent and kind of drop out, but there is something in the Grand Army of the Republic that there is not in any other organization. You have formed this association amid the fire and smoke of battle, on the muddy march, and through those years of struggle and carnage and blood, each man formed at that time an affection for the other, and the gentle touch of the elbow kept you always in line. Later on, when the Grand Army of the Republic was organized, you have still perpetuated the memories of those times and deeds; you have perpetuated your organization; you have been the patriotic instructor of the people of this country; you not only by your own personal appearance, by your activity in every way, spread patriotism through our schools and the entire country, but you are even useful when you are dead. On the train, passing through the valleys, cast your eye out of the window and you see a little mound with a little flag on it, and you say to yourself: "There is a comrade of mine. He is dead and gone, but his remains lying there in that cemetery are teaching patriotism." It is an object lesson. It is teaching patriotism to young and old, and so long as the teachings that have been put in force by this great organization are continued, you never need fear that Old Glory will be trampled in the dust.

You men of Pennsylvania should be more than proud to have taken part in the great civil conflict, for it is an admitted fact that there were more Pennsylvanians in the Civil War than from any other state in this Union.

We are always proud of Perry and his victory on Lake Erie. The word "Erie" to an American is a sort of patriotic name. The very thought of that grand victory inspires patriotism. The timber that went to make up those vessels that Perry commanded grew within a radius of four to ten miles from this city.

Comrades, I want to say that I will do the best I possibly can to reach you in your various posts throughout the State. While I live, inasmuch as you have imposed upon me this honorable duty, I shall do my best, and then if in the discharge of that duty I fall on the way, I will have died performing my duties to my comrades. I hope that I may deserve your support and your sympathy, and all I say to you is: Stand by your officers; you must help me; you must uphold my hands; you must uphold the hands of the commanders of the various posts; be prompt; go to your meetings. I will discharge my duty fully, but I ask my comrades to come into line and help me do the work that I propose to carry out.

I want further to say that, if in the discharge of my duty as commander, I come anywhere near those eminent and distinguished comrades who have held this position of Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, then I will feel proud of myself. Here is Commander Powell, a man that I only met during his official visit, and I was so pleased with his manner and method of talking to the comrades that I felt he was one of the grandest men I had ever met as Department Commander, not to say anything in disparagement of the other commanders. Pennsylvania has had many eminent department commanders. If I can discharge my duty as I hope to do, I will then think that the Department of Pennsylvania has conferred upon me a most distinguished honor. Comrades, I thank you. (Applause.)

Commander Powell: We are now ready to hear the report of the tellers on the election of senior vice commander.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Sir and Comrade: The election board appointed to count the votes cast for Senior Vice Department Commander, report that there were a total of 286 votes cast, of which Thomas H. Cole, Post No. 67, received 220 votes.

Mahlon H. Shaaber, Post No. 16, received 66 votes.

Attest,

WILLIAM H. HOUCK, Post No. 16,
J. H. WILLIAMS, Post No. 67,
JACOB BARRON, Post No. 1.

Commander Powell: Comrade Cole, having received a majority of the votes cast, I declare him elected Senior Vice-Commander for the ensuing year.

We will now receive the report of the tellers on the election of junior vice-commander.

Erie, June 4, 1908.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The election board to count the vote for Junior Vice Department Commander, respectfully report that 292 votes were cast, with the following result:

William H. Heddens, Post No. 22, received 213 votes.

Andrew James, Post No. 80, received 79 votes.

Fraternally submitted,

ELWOOD C. BROWN, Post No. 80,
JAMES WALKER, Post No. 94,
JOHN A. MASON, Post No. 20.

Commander Powell: Comrade Heddons having received a majority of the votes cast, I declare him elected junior vice-commander for the ensuing year.

Commander Powell: Past Commander W. J. Patterson will install the senior and junior vice-department commanders-elect.

The Installing Officer: Comrades, you have been selected by the Encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania as senior and junior vice department commanders. Your long service makes you familiar with the duties of your positions, and it is unnecessary for me to recite any of the duties which you are called upon to perform.

The obligation was then administered to the newly elected senior and junior vice department commanders.

Commander Powell: Is there any other business to come before this Encampment?

Past Department Commander Wagner: I make the same motion that I did yesterday, that when the tellers on the Council of Administration and on representatives to the National Encampment are prepared with their final report it be properly certified and published in orders by the Department Commander.

The motion was duly seconded and agreed to.

Department Commander DeLacey: There being no other business, the Chaplain will close with prayer.

The Chaplain: Our Heavenly Father, we pray Thy blessing may be with us; we pray that Thou wilt be pleased to guide us on our journey. We may never again meet as we have met together in this Encampment. Some of us may be mustered out before we gather again, but we pray that Thy rich blessing and benediction may be upon us, and if we may not meet on earth, may each and every one of us be permitted to listen to the roll call and answer his name, and to have Thee say, "Well done, good and faithful servant." O, Lord, our God, we pray that this year may be a year of prosperity. We pray Thee to bless the commander-elect and all the officers that are associated with him in council and administration. Make this a great year for the Department of Pennsylvania, and unto the Father, Son and Spirit will be praise for evermore. Amen.

Department Commander DeLacey: I now declare the 42d Annual Encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania closed in due form.

The following returns were received by Assistant Adjutant General, after the close of the Encampment.

Erie, June 4, 1908, 1 P. M.

Charles A. Suydam, Assistant Adjutant General:

Comrade: The tellers appointed to count the vote of candidates for "Council of Administration" report that the duties assigned them have been completed, and we hereby certify that the total number of votes polled was 284, of which the following comrades:

H. T. Stanwood, Post No. 334, received 239 votes.
 Theo. F. Turner, Post No. 31, received 247 votes.
 John Dougherty, Post No. 8, received 228 votes.
 Lemon Buch, Post No. 16, received 222 votes.
 Wm. Briar, Post No. 167, received 153 votes.
 Michael Bucher, Post No. 99, received 80 votes.
 W. T. Bradbury, Post No. 162, received 172 votes.

Attested fraternally,

GEORGE J. SCHWARTZ, Post No. 46,
 THOMAS G. JONES, Post No. 236,
 E. L. SCHROEDER, Post No. 37.

Erie, June 4, 1908, 2.30 P. M.

ADENDUM.

To the 42nd Annual Encampment, Dept. Pa. Grand Army of the Republic, Erie, Pa.:

Commander and Comrades: I greatly regret that, in order to have my annual report as Department Patriotic Instructor at Headquarters in time to be printed for this Encampment, time and space would not permit my making "honorable mention" of the Post Patriotic Instructors, many Posts, and comrades throughout the Department whose reports and letters show that they are conducting the patriotic work devolving upon them energetically, intelligently and in a commendable manner, and yet, from nearly all quarter there has come a "Macedonian Cry" that should have the recognition of this Encampment. That you may fully appreciate this, and also the recommendation in my annual report, that a committee be appointed to take the matter up, I submit this supplemental report, much of which is from reports and letters received from Comrades throughout our Department and are notably suggestive in many ways.

One comrade writes "I am Patriotic Instructor of my Post-am in love with the work-but fear I am not doing it in the right way; what I want information on, is to the best manner of presenting the whole subject of patriotism in brief and pointed talks, and want you to send me instructions along this line. Write me a patriotic address or talk, such as you think I should make. I will give you credit for same and pay you for your trouble."

Another comrade writes "I am Patriotic Instructor of a little Post up here in the country. I believe I am an earnest worker and heartily approve of the patriotic work of the Grand Army and am anxious to use all the ways and means possible to promote it. We visit the schools, not only preceding Memorial Day, but often during the year. I take as many comrades as can go with me and visit all the schools in the country. Sometimes we are not received in the most friendly manner by the principal, but that soon passes off. I insist on the comrades accompanying me always wearing the full Grand Army uniform, appearing neat, clean and of a certainty—sober and dignified. We take the bugle along and a comrade sounds the old familiar calls—which of course interests the children, and the older people as well, for we have as many of these present as we can possibly drum up. Many of the Comrades are not able to talk and some, when they do talk, do not say the right things. I wish you would send me some typewritten addresses for such comrades to read or commit to memory in order that they may say just what should be said. Where can I buy a supply, and at what price per 100; of the little book of patriotic songs that you sent me?"

Many other comrades request me to send them programs consisting of short addresses, patriotic recitations and songs, and a supply of the Flag Salute adopted by the Grand Army of the Republic for use in the schools. Many have never even seen this

Another comrade says "The chairman of the Committee to visit schools—of which I was one—in the course of a very nice talk—made several noticeable grammatical errors. I was the next speaker and, in a way not to reflect on the chairman, said when the war broke out and Abraham Lincoln called for volunteers many thousands of boys left school and, being men when they returned home, many were never able to complete even a common school education. They went to work, married, raised families and became good citizens and are of those that developed and made this great country what it is to-day. I gave a brief history of each comrade present—of his services to his country and what he had done since, making just such an impression as should be made on children and I might add, as should be made on all people of the present day and generation."

Another comrade reports the display of what was once a flag. It had become torn, weather beaten and "as black as Pittsburg snow" but as soon as the owners attention was called to its disgraceful condition he had it removed from the pole and promised on all occasions hereafter a clean flag should float from that staff—thus proving that people will perform a neglected duty when reminded of it, also, that the way to do patriotic work properly and without much labor on the part of the comrades is to enlist others in it—this can only be done by education and in an interesting way.

A lady wants to know why people who use the flag to advertise whiskey, beer, patent medicines, breakfast foods, etc., are not prosecuted. She says it makes her indignant to see our "Grand Old Flag" used for such purposes. She seemed to know that all the Northern States, at least, have statutes that have been declared constitutional, forbidding any desecration of the flag whatever and that this law should be enforced.

Another woman writes "that her residence is on a hill, that she has erected a splendid flag staff, and has a beautiful flag for it and wants to know the days and times that it will be proper for her to display it—that she does not want to miss an opportunity for so doing."

The chairman of a committee that visited the schools last year says, "on my committee there were two comrades, prosperous and prominent business men, who were doing this duty for the first time, and who were so impressed with the exercises of the occasion that one offered three prizes of ten dollars each to the scholars who would write the three best essays on our visit to the school. The other comrade made the same offer for the three best essays on "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" and said we would come back this year and present the prizes."

One Post reports that instead of visiting the schools (they have three with six rooms each under their charge) in the day time when only the scholars are present, they take an evening for each school and have a regular program made up by themselves—consisting of short address and of the right kind of patriotic songs and recitations—and that the scholars whose names are on the program or for any part of the exercises are there as a reward of merit and think it a coveted honor. Small prizes—appropriate to the occasion are given—such as books of patriotic songs or verse, small silk flags or inexpensive badges. The comrades take their places on the platform and usually not more than one or two do any speaking, generally selecting some well known citizen to make the principle address, who can tell just who the comrades are—why they are there—what they represent—what they have done and what a privilege it is to see them.

I personally think this a wise departure. The evening exercises are potent in interesting the adults in the family circle—and this custom once well established—will probably be continued for many years to come. For higher grades—particularly—it should be encouraged and commended.

Last year there was placed in the corridor of the Pittsburgh High School a bronze memorial tablet which contains the names of all the boys who attended the school and who served in the Civil War. "The Allegheny County Bar Association" have started a movement to place a similar tablet in the court house at Pittsburgh which shall contain the names of all attorneys of that bar who were soldiers of the 60's. Many names will be thus commemorated, not only of great lawyers, but great soldiers and great Pennsylvanians.

Through the efforts of the "Allegheny County Grand Army Association," and by vote of the people, Allegheny county is now building a Soldiers' Memorial Hall at a cost of $1,250,000.00 which will be dedicated next year. Under the same law any county in the State can have a Memorial Hall, in preference to a monument, and which, is much more desirable and useful.

Interest in the "Lincoln Memorial Farm Association" and the movement to have placed "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address," either in printed or bronze tablet form, in the schools, churches and other institutions is commendable and should have our support.

The placing of tablets, such as I have referred to, presentation of flags, books, painting, sculpture and pictures would often be made by people of means if the importance and force of such presentations were made known to them and, if made matter of public notice would bring out patriotic fervor wherever happening.

There is much in the condition of to-day demanding our earnest consideration. The best thought and most patriotic impulses of our people must be appealed to, we have an abiding place in their affections, our influence is great and, if rightly used, we can feel sure a satisfactory response will come.

To conclude—the lessons in patriotism should never tire, and to keep the work before the public it should be earnestly and entertainingly conducted.

It is evident that to follow out all the suggestions herewith indicated would be some expense to the Department but this would be small in comparison with the good accomplished. It is not wise, in my opinion, to be too economical in a cause that will rebound so much to the glory of the Grand Army of the Republic as will this evidence of its unselfish patriotism.

Very respectfully submitted,

CHAS. O. SMITH,
Patriotic Instructor.
